INJURED YOUTH BREAKS COUNTY JAIL

MAY FORCE SURVEY OF SITUATION

James Long Picks Lock While in Quarters for Women

HAS ESCAPE RECORD, CLAIM

Will be Shown no Mercy When Taken, County Officials Say

James Long, also known as Walter Long, 16, a familiar figure in police and juvenile courts, took French leave at the Allen-co jail early Wednesday.

The lad who was wounded in both legs while attempting to escape from Police Officer Good, August 30, was confined in the woman's ward on the second floor of the sheriff's residence.

Some time in the night he picked the lock, and silently stole out. Before departing from the building, however, he halted in the jail office long enough to purloin $10 from a desk. His absence was discovered at the breakfast hour Wednesday. Sheriff Croson and deputies and police were soon scouring the country side in search of the fugitive.

Long is an old offender, according to police who say they have picked him up repeatedly. Twice during the past six months, the boy has escaped from the Allen-co detention home.

Long was shot by Officer Good following the robbery of the Piggly-Wiggly store in 121 W. Market-st. August 30. He gave police the name of Alvin Ralph Carter, at the time. He was later identified. Gum and an umbrella were stolen from the grocery.

For a time the youth lay in the hospital. He was arraigned a week ago, and turned over to the county about four days ago.

Probation officers informed Judge J. H. Hamilton early in the week that the lad would not be able to appear in court until Friday or Saturday. It is now believed that the boy, planning to escape feigned weakness, in order to throw his keepers off guard.

Judge Hamilton, declared Wednesday that he has given the lad several chances to make good, but he's all there with leniency now.

"I shall commit him to Lancaster, Ohio," he declared.

Long is the third boy it is claimed who has escaped from the sheriff's residence in the past six months.

One fled early in January by prying loose bars in the juvenile prison on the third floor, crawling along the eaves and sliding down a water pipe.

Another lad, a runaway held pending arrival of parents, is said to have gone thru a skylight.

Condition of the jail will be investigated by county commissioners, it was announced Wednesday. It is rumored that nothing has been done for years to make the juvenile and women's wards secure for prisoners, and both are in poor repair.

YOUNG MAN DROPS DEAD WHEN HE SEIZES WIRES

DAYTON — "Will I get a shock if I touch that wire?" asked George Noble, 22, today while assisting electricians repair an electric furnace at the DeWitt plant.

"No," but if you touch both of them at the same time, you will," as the reply of fellow workers. Noble promptly seized both ends of exposed wiring and dropped dead in a tracks.

MERGER MEETING NEXT MONDAY

Officials of First National and American Banks Set Date

Definite agreement has been reached between the members of the committee from the First National and the American banks to meet next Monday afternoon for first formal discussion of the merger of the two institutions.

Announcement of the acceptance by the other committee of the request of President Henry Delsel of the American bank for a postponement of the meeting scheduled for today was made Wednesday morning by Judge William Klinger, a member of the American bank committee and spokesman for the merger committee.

It is learned on reliable authority that there have been a number of informal conferences among stockholders of both banks and that the majority are already said to be inclined favorably to the merger proposition. As in every institution, it was pointed out Wednesday, there are some who hesitate to make changes but they are being won over to the merger proposition, according to reliable authority.

Members of the two committees have declined to discuss, for publication, the basis on which the initial meeting will start merger discussion. As has already been told in The Lima News, it is possible that the First National bank may increase its capital stock.

In banking circles generally it is accepted as fact that the merger will occur and the predictions are that it will be made effective the first of the coming year.

DEATHS PROBED

Murder May be Charged in Columbus Liquor Case

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Filing of charges of second degree murder as prescribed in the state's new prohibition enforcement laws, may be filed against the man who sold liquor from the effects of which Mrs. Mabel Potter, 40, died here last night. Coroner Murphy today rendered a verdict holding that the liquor was the cause of her death. A man who drank from the same bottle also became ill, but is expected to recover.

Investigation also is being made of the recent death of Jacob Haering with the idea of taking similar steps. Haering died Saturday night, and the vendor of the liquor thought to have been responsible for his death is said to be known.

CITY MAY HAVE AIR COPS

AKRON—(United Press) — This city may have air cops soon.

An ordinance was passed by council Tuesday night making it illegal for aviators to do any trick flying over the city. Tricks definitely banned as the loop the loop, tail spin, nose dive, falling leaf and immerman dive.

There are a number of flying fields here, but most of them are outside the city limits. Council has in mind an aviator to act as "traffic cop of the air."

ITALY MOBILIZES FOR WAR

Preparations Made for Attack Against Jugo-Slavia

MAY INCLUDE ALL BALKANS

Alarm is Felt in London Over Situation

ROME—(United Press) — Italian military forces will evacuate Corfu when the Italian demands against Greece have not only been accepted but executed, Premier Mussolini told the cabinet today. Italy has weathered the crisis the premier said.

"Let us now wait until Greece gives due redress."

LONDON — (United Press) — Italy, having forced her will upon Greece, now is prepared to take military action, if necessary, to defend Italian rights in Fiume, dispatches from Rome, Athens and the Balkans indicate.

A new Adriatic crisis, with Corfu and Fiume as immediate pawns, and Italy, Jugo-Slavia, Greece and Albania as possible participants in new conflict appeared at hand today.

Mussolini has charged the Jugo Slavs with seeking to take advantage of the Italian-Greek dispute to break a contract that gave most of Fiume to Italy. The Serbs have disclaimed any such intention and insisted they will abide by agreement made, but reports from Athens, possibly inspired, declare Italian military preparations are under way.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS

The Athens correspondents of the Daily Chronicle cabled: "In Trieste, troop trains are held in readiness with steam up and heavy contingents of choice Italian troops are being concentrated presumably for use against Jugo-Slavia if that nation does not accept the Italian terms for settlement of the Fiume controversy by Saturday."

Ten steamers have been requisitioned by the Italian government for conveying troops to the base at Pola.

"At Bari, the Italians have embarked the sixth, tenth and 47th infantry regiments for an unknown destination. The units are completely supplied with artillery and munitions. Their destination is not known."

The correspondent said the reported landing of Italian troops at Santa Quaranta still was unconfirmed in Athens, but had created intense excitement in the Greek capital where it was firmly believed Italy is intent on forcing the hand of Jugo-Slavia by a threat of invading Macedonia thru Albania.

SITUATION ALARMING

Officials in London considered the whole Balkan situation as alarming and feared Italy is ready to go to extreme ends to carry out her plan for making the Adriatic an "Italian lake."

They saw in the virtual ultimatum to Belgrade for acceptance of the Italian thesis for settlement of the Fiume controversy, a firm determination on the part of Mussolini to carry out the plan originally conceived by D'Annunzio in his seizure of Fiume.

CONGESTION IN SCHOOLS DECREASES

New Rooms Will Soon be Ready For Occupancy

MAY RELAY TERRA COTTA

School Board Demanding That Good Work be Done

Additional rooms will be available in Lima schools in the near future, according to reports of contractors at the school board meeting Tuesday night.

East wing of Franklin Junior has been promised to be ready for occupancy early in October and the complete addition will be finished by November.

Work on the addition to South High school is advancing on schedule. Three rooms were ready for occupancy Monday when school opened. Three more rooms will be ready within three weeks, contractors say. This will complete six of the fourteen planned rooms and will provide enough extra space to accommodate all classes.

BUILDING CONGESTED

The building is now congested, classes being held in rest rooms, corridors and the cafeteria. This condition will be remedied by the addition of the three more rooms. The remaining eight rooms will not be ready for occupancy for several months as this addition will require more work than the first six rooms. The rooms that will be completed in the near future were superimposed on the floor above the machine and forge shops and consequently were easier to construct.

Excavation work was started on the new Roosevelt school on West Spring-st. Wednesday. Material has been delivered and actual construction will be started soon.

Work on the new Jefferson school in east Lima will be started next week. The ground has been staked and excavation work will start in a few days. Material has been delivered for the building.

PLACING TERRA COTTA

Contractors placing terra cotta on the new addition to South High school have been asked by the board of education to bring an inspector here to look over the work.

Terra cotta is difficult to lay properly, contractors say, as the pieces are long and warp easily. Some of the pieces all ready placed at the South High building may have to be relaid.

The school board is taking care to see that all the work done on the new buildings is correct in every detail and that nothing is left undone to make them as perfect as possible.

Only a small part of the terra cotta has been laid at South, all of the base course not being completed. School board did not reject the work but asked that an inspector be sent as they believed a few of the pieces should be relaid.

Even if all the terra cotta would have been relaid construction would not be delayed on the building, school officials declared. At present it appears that only a few pieces will need to be relaid.

TEACHERS APPOINTED

Superintendent J. E. Collins appointed with the sanction of the board of education, 11 graduates of the normal school of teachers for this year.

These were the first appointments from the normal school as it was necessary to wait until school was ready to open before it was known what teachers would be needed.

Girls appointed are: Louise Blank, Lucille Webb, Marvel Boessel, Eris Dempster, Elsie Lyman, Iona Price, Ruth Finicle, Christine Baker, Mildred Evans, Leah Carlton and Helen Edstrand.

Six remaining graduates of the normal school will be appointed as soon as there are vacancies, Superintendent Collins announced.

QUITS KNITTING TO RUN MACHINE SHOP

MRS. MINNA DENNES, GRANDMOTHER

NEW YORK—And now that we've said good-bye to mother on her way downtown to the office let's go over in the corner and sit by grandmother while she knits. My word! Grandmother isn't knitting. As a matter of fact grandmother isn't in the corner at all. She's put on her flexible arch shoes and her little cloche hat with the natty quill and gone off to have a career of her own.

"And she has a perfect right to it," says Mrs. Minna Dennes, grandmother herself.

Now she sells machinery, is secretary and treasurer of her company and is said to have a better knowledge of stationary machinery than any man going.

SUSPECT CONFESSES HE HAS SEVEN LIVING WIVES

Los Angeles Death Probe Reveals Adventures

MARRIED TWICE IN OHIO

All Victims Believed to Have Considerable Money

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press)—The authorities hope today to receive replies to telegrams they sent yesterday inquiring into the alleged matrimonial adventures of Harry R. Roshon, who was arrested here last Friday, under the name of A. E. Woods, and suspected for a time of being Dr. P. V. Allen, wanted in Seattle, Wash., in connection with the death there in 1916 of Anna Danielson, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Investigation had failed to connect him with the Seattle case and authorities were about to release him when they decided to give him "one more thoro grilling." Considerably to their astonishment, they said, he then confessed that he had been married seven times, declared all seven women still living, but said, therefore, that six of the alleged ceremonies were illegal.

LIST OF WIVES

His first marriage as officers quoted him, was to Emma L. Johns in Warren, Ohio, 27 years ago, and his last six, all contracted in the last four years, were to Della Whalen, Leavittsburg, Ohio; Jennie Neuret, Tacoma, Wash.; Nina R. King, Fort Wayne, Ind.; in which ceremony he used the name of A. E. Reed; Alma E. Snyder, Spokane, Wash., whom he married under the name of W. A. Allen; Mae S. Roush, Des Moines, Iowa, where he again used the name of A. E. Reed, and Bell Parker, Evansville, Wis. consin.

All are believed to have had considerable money.

He was said to have a list of more than sixty women, matrimonial prospects, whose wealth or prospects of it he had reduced to tabulated form.

These women represented many parts of the United States and Canada and Mexico as well, it was stated.

MARRIAGE AT WARREN

WARREN, Ohio — (Associated Press)—Harry Reed Roshon married Della Whalen, formerly of Handly, Pa., a widow, aged 45, here March 1, records. Roshon gave his age as 43 and said he was not previously married. No license to Emma L. Johns is recorded here between 1890 and 1900. Whereabouts of Della Whalen is unknown here.

Arms and Ribs Broken in Drop From Loco Crane

William S. Sowers, 43, of 123 W. Kibby-st, suffered serious injuries Wednesday morning when he fell a distance of 50 feet off a crane on which he was working at the Lima Locomotive Works. Sowers was removed to St. Rita's hospital. Examination disclosed two broken arms, a fractured rib and he is also suffering from severe shock.

CITY WILL GET MONEY NEXT YEAR

City Officials Move to Correct Erroneous Impression

LOSE $50,000 IN 1923

Three Mill Levy Will Not Aid Next Year's Operation

Lima will get in 1924, the full amount of the one mill levy voted in 1918, despite the popular impression among city officials that the city gets nothing after this year from the levy voted five years ago.

This fact was revealed Wednesday morning when investigation was made at the city hall and the county tax office relative to that millage. Mayor Cunningham and City Manager Bingham had believed that the one mill levy expires this year.

This is true but—the city gets the full year's income from it in 1924, according to Deputy County Auditor Clyde Ackerman.

The one mill is levied on 1923 duplicate which is now being made up and this is the last year that it can be so levied—but the receipts will not be turned over to the city until the February and August settlements of 1924.

RECORDS SHOW STATUS

The situation on the one mill levy as revealed by the records at city hall show the following facts:

Sept. 17, 1918, the council authorized the levy and the voters in November, 1918, passed the one mill. It was attached to the 1919 tax duplicate and the first payment under that levy was made to the city in the settlements of February and August, 1920. The council resolution and vote of the people provided that the levy should run five years. The payments then, the records show, are as follows:

First payment, 1920; second, 1921; third, 1922; fourth, 1923, and the fifth and final payment to the city under the one mill levy will be made in the February and August, 1924, payments. Thus it is plain, city officials admit, that the city in 1924 will get the full one mill levy.

NO FUNDS IN 1925

But, they point out, the one mill levy will not be attached to the 1924 duplicate because it will have expired and so the city will get nothing in 1925 from the one mill which was voted in 1918.

In connection with the three mill levy which is being asked in petitions now in circulation, city officials declare that if it is authorized in the November election the city will not get a cent on it until 1925, as it will be first attached to the 1924 duplicate, collection of which starts in December and first settlement of which is made to the city in February, 1925.

It is pointed out that the impression created that the city would get nothing from the one mill levy in 1924 is in error.

TRIPLE KILLING STORY TOLD

Raymond and Irene Tenwalde at Grand Jury Probe

SLAYING IS LAID BARE

Wednesday Testimony Practically
Same as Coroner's Inquest

Raymond Tenwalde, 14 years old, on Wednesday rehearsed the stirring details of the murder of his mother, Mrs. William Tenwalde, his sister, Miss Olivia Tenwalde, and his cousin, Lawrence Tenwalde, before the Putnam-co grand jury at Ottawa.

The inquisitorial body, having completed the labors for which it was called in the regular work, turned its attention today to the murder investigation.

Miss Irene Tenwalde, 12, who also witnessed the shooting, described the scenes and the events leading up to the tragedy to the grand jury.

Other persons called and who will testify are William Tenwalde, husband and father of the murdered woman, Cornelius Bockrath, brother of Mrs. William Tenwalde, Coroner A. F. Shelby and Joseph Hovest, a neighboring farmer.

The movements of Shank will be traced through testimony to be introduced by his relatives. They are Walter Shank, a brother, Earl Shank, a cousin, and Harry Tegardner, of Columbus Grove, at whose farm home Shank had worked the past summer.

Raymond Tenwalde will tell the grand jury practically the same story he told Coroner Shelby at the hearing in the inquest. Miss Irene Tenwalde also will describe the happenings on the fatal day of September 1.

Raymond's testimony at the coroner's inquest, verbatim, was as follows:

RAYMOND TELLS STORY

Q—State your name, age, occupation and place of residence.
A—My name is Raymond Tenwalde, I am 14 years of age. I am a farmer by occupation and live at the residence in Putnam-co, Ohio.

Q—Were you at home September 1, on Saturday?

A—Yes.

Q—Who else was at home on that day in the afternoon the three got shot?

A—My sister, Irene, and Ambrose and Mary and Henry.

Q—Do you know Charles Shank?

A—Yes, I have known him since I was four or five years old.

Q—How long have you known him?

A—Three or four years, maybe longer.

Q—Did he ever work at this house or on this farm?

A—Yes.

Q—For whom?

A—William Tenwalde, my father.

Q—When was the last time before this that you saw Charles Shank?

A—On Sunday night, about a week before this.

Q—At what time on Sunday?

A—At four or five o'clock.

Q—How long did he stay?

A—Half an hour.

Q—What did he say?

A—A couple of words.

Q—Did he talk to Lawrence?

A—The boy was away at that time.

Q—Did you see Charles Shank drive in here last Sunday?

A—No, I did not.

Q—Did you notice what kind of a rig he drove?

A—The rig was rubber-tired, a dark yellow buggy with a green body.

Q—Describe the rig.

A—It was a bay horse.

Q—What kind of clothes did Charles have on that day?

A—A blue suit and cap.

Q—Did he have a valise in the buggy?

A—No, I didn't go to the buggy and look.

SPRINGER HEIRS DISAPPOINTED

Bid Farewell to Dreams at Chicago Meeting

LIMA PEOPLE ARE PRESENT

Mrs. Mary Springer McMahon
Declares Claims False

Three hundred members of the Springer Heirs Inc., many of whom live in Lima, descendants and heirs of Charles Christopher Springer who died in 1733, bade farewell to their dreams of getting a half billion dollars out of Wilmington, Del., real estate, Tuesday, when Attorney W. H. Chadwick presented a signed statement from Mrs. Mary Springer McMahon, originator of the Springer Heirs organization, in which she admitted that her claims were false.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Chown, 413 S. Baxter-st., Lima, who are descendants of Charles Christopher Springer, attended the meeting in Chicago.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Chown, having taken an active interest in the affairs of the Springer heirs organization, believing that the claims made by the numerous descendants were legal.

Attorney Otis Lippincott, also interested in the organization as another descendant, attached little significance to the claims, however, and has taken little if any active interest in the activities of the organization.

According to the claims made by the corporation, Springer owned most of the real estate where now stands the city of Wilmington, and the corporation was formed to prove the claims of the heirs and collect the real estate.

The "missing page from the records which would prove the claim," the $20,000,000 in a Philadelphia bank and a "mausoleum in Sweden just bursting with jewels and precious heirlooms," Attorney Chadwick said, were all myths. What has been termed the organizing movement, Chadwick said, "has only been the invention of stories to get money from innocent people who live in country towns."

To settle the matter once and for all, he said, the entire matter will be placed before an abstract company and its decision will be final.

ZR-1 IS PUT THRU SEVERE TESTS

Officials Pleased at Largest Dirigible's Behavior

LAKESHURST, N. J. — (Associated Press) — Uncle Sam's giant naval dirigible, the ZR-1, lay in her barn-like hangar today with every stay and wire in her frame as taut and shipshape as they were yesterday when she left here on her epoch-making trip of eleven and one-half hours.

Her officers and officials of the naval air-station, elevated at the great ship's performance declared another trip probably would be essayed next Sunday. They announced themselves satisfied in every detail of the dirigible's behavior in flight, during which she paid stately, majestic visits to New York and Philadelphia and gave glimpses of her regal, graceful self to a half score cities of New Jersey.

Not a mishap occurred although the ship was subjected to most severe tests. With all six engines running, the not at full speed, the ZR-1 made sixty miles an hour at times. On one occasion she rose to an altitude of 7,000 feet, the highest she has yet done.

Commander Ralph Weyerbacher, U. S. designer, builder and commander of the dirigible, in a statement published today in the New York Tribune, declared that the aerial sun-dreadnaught flown over New York on a warlike errand it would have been an easy matter to have destroyed public buildings, smashed great holes in the crowded streets and reduce the metropolis to a state of panic.

However, the ZR-1 is not a bombing craft. The prime function of this and similar airships is to act as a long distance eye for the navy. The ZR-1 was designed as a wide ranging scout, to scour the seas in time of war for signs of enemy fleet movements.

The whole trip covered nearly six hundred miles over the Atlantic seaboard and it was a tremendous success. We had proved to the satisfaction of our own officers at least that the largest airship in the world, designed and built entirely in America, of materials and with American hands, can be flown with entire safety and maneuvered as an effective arm of the navy."

J. E. GROSGJEAN GIVES CITY SCHOOL CASE WITH BIRDS

J. E. Grosjean has presented Lima schools with a large case filled with mounted birds. There are over 25 specimens in the collection. Both local and foreign species are represented.

Collection is a valuable one and will be used by the schools in bird study work. The birds will be rearranged and placed on exhibition.

Several schools are planning on organizing bird study clubs this year and the specimens will be used in connection with this work.

Bird study is in addition to the school curriculum but it is believed that pupils will be interested in the work and it will become one of the most popular courses.

315,824 HOUSES DESTROYED

Official Estimate Placed on Losses in Quake Disaster

CASUALTIES PUT AT 1,356,749

Work of Clearing Debris in Zone
Under Way

OSAKA — (Associated Press) — What is reported to be an official compilation of the earthquake casualties estimates the dead, injured and missing at 1,356,749.

It is also estimated that a total of 315,824 houses were destroyed.

TOKIO — (Associated Press) — Deaths from the earthquake, fires and tidal waves in and around Tokio were estimated today to number 150,000.

Groups of 100 and more bodies have been found in various spots. Dysentery is prevalent.

TOKIO — (Associated Press) — The work of clearing up the debris of the earthquake and fire is under way in Tokio. The street car system's employees have been mobilized and are clearing the tracks of the burned street cars and workmen are repairing such of the damaged buildings as can be made habitable for use of the refugees and homeless.

GREAT CITY PLANNED

While some foreigners, more pessimistic than the Japanese, have let it be known that they intend to transfer their business interests to Osaka or Kobe, abandoning Tokio and Yokohama or reducing their enterprises there to branches, the Japanese business men declare their intention of making the capital a city greater than ever.

They cite as an incentive to this the remarkable rebuilding of San Francisco after its disaster in 1906.

Distribution of supplies, including even fresh food, is under way.

The military balloons are hanging over the city carrying observers able to overlook large areas and report promptly any incident requiring attention.

FLEE FROM CITY

Negroes Quit South Bend After Receiving Threatening Letter

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (Associated Press) — Quiet prevailed in the negro section here today following a night of excitement which was marked by the exodus of between 1,000 and 1,500 negroes from the city, according to police reports. Extra details of police who patrolled the city last night for the purpose of handling any disturbance which might arise, reported no untoward incidents.

The commotion among the negroes followed receipt of a letter by one of the members of the community, which was said to have warned the negroes an outbreak against them was brewing. The letter is also said to have stated that a negro being held for the alleged slaying of a local policeman was to be taken from the jail by a mob.

Many of the negro residents became frightened and are said to have fled from the city while others are reported to have armed themselves. The action of the latter led to the issuance of an order by Police Chief Lawrence Lane, stopping the sale of firearms.

Officials in discussing the situation expressed the opinion that the letter which was unsigned was the work of a crank and that no disturbance of importance will occur.

LOCAL CATHOLIC ORDER OF FORESTERS NAMES OFFICERS

Edward Mithaupt was elected chief ranger of the local Catholic Order of Foresters at a meeting held Tuesday night. Other officers for the ensuing year are: Frank Dobner, vice-chief ranger; P. J. Finch, treasurer; Frank Moening, speaker; Joseph Godde, William Wagner and Matthew Wukstic, trustees.

W. A. ester, special representative of the high court gave an interesting talk which was followed by a smoking.

STORK DEFEATING GRIM REAPER

Report Shows 29 Births and Only
17 Deaths

NO DEATHS IN 4 SECTIONS

Fatalities Distributed Thru all
Age Divisions

The stork defeated the grim reaper in their eternal contest during the month of August in Allen-co.

Twenty-nine births were reported in the county and only 17 deaths. There were nine births reported from towns in the county and twenty from the rural districts. Only six deaths were reported in towns and 11 in townships.

Bath and Shawnee-tps and Bluffton had the highest number of births, each reporting four. Bluffton was high with four deaths reported.

Jackson-tp, Lafayette and Harrod did not report any births or deaths. No deaths were reported in Cairo, Amanda, Perry and Richland-tps. Spencer-tp and Beavertown did not report any births.

BOYS IN LEAD

One more boy was born in the county in August than girls, a total of 15 boys against 14 girls being reported.

Nine women died during the month and eight men. No epidemics were responsible for the deaths, chief causes were two by heart disease, two by apoplexy and three accidental.

Four people between 80 and 90 years old died during August. Three were between 70 and 80 years old and three between 60 and 70 years of age. There was one death each between the ages of one to five, 40 to 50, and 60 to 70. Two deaths were of babies less than one year and two more were reported of people between 30 and 40 years old. No one died between the ages of 50 to 60 in the county during the month.

BUYERS THREATEN CITY HEADS

"Put Screws on" Officials When Bonds Are Sold

MIGHT HAVE WITHDRAWN

Lima Bank Agrees to Take Part of Security Issue

After bond buyers whose bids for city bonds and motors were opened Tuesday had "put the screws" on the city with a threat to withdraw all bids, city officials got in touch with local banking institutions with the result that the Lima banks will take the $31,363 worth of street improvement notes.

This left only the $11,060 worth of street improvement bonds to be disposed of and award was made late that afternoon to Seasongood & Mayer of Cincinnati, on their bid of $3,552.20. This is the eighth issue, seven of which are bonds and one note, $1,600 for the Holmes-ay improvement.

City Auditor Churchill, Manager Bingham and Mayor Cunningham figured every possible way to get the most in premiums. Some of the bidders made their bids conditional on getting all issues or none. But taking those who made no such conditions and accepting just the highest bid on each of the eight issues, the city officials found that the total premiums would be only $3,720.35 as against the Seasongood & Mayer bid of $3,552.20 premium for the whole eight issues.

COMPLICATION ARISES

After the bids were opened and Auditor Churchill saw what a complication was developing he refused to take responsibility for awarding the bid and called in the mayor and city manager. They declined the responsibility and proposed that the awarding be withheld until a special meeting of the commission could be called for Wednesday. Then the bond buyers "applied the screws," as one official said. The buyers delivered their ultimatum, "Either award the contract before the close of business this afternoon or we withdraw all bids." So there was nothing to do but act.

Officials got busy and called on local banks to see if they would take care of the notes for Eureka, High, Market and Woodlawn improvements if the city awarded the other eight issues to the Cincinnati concern. The banks agreed just in time to prevent the bond buyers from withdrawing their bids.

MRS. CHANDLER, FORMER RESIDENT, DIES IN TOLEDO

Mrs. W. H. Chandler, wife of the late W. H. Chandler, and a former resident of Lima, died at Toledo following an illness of four years. Mrs. Chandler left Lima about four years ago following the death of her husband, who was wreck foreman of the L. E. & W. railroad, and who was killed at Tipton in an accident. Deceased was a prominent south side resident and a member of St. John's Catholic church.

Body is now at the home of the only daughter, Mrs. J. J. O'Grady, 930 Brice-av. Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 a. m. from St. Rose Catholic church. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

COCHRAN FUNERAL TUESDAY

Funeral services for Robert Earl Cochran, 11 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Early Cochran, of 614 W. High-st., who died Tuesday morning following a short illness, will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at the residence. Rev. W. L. Steeves, pastor of First Baptist church, will officiate. WALTER S. WARD GOES ON TRIAL

Wealthy Baker's Son Faces Court on Murder Charge

UNDER SECOND INDICTMENT

New York Prisoner Accused of Killing Clarence Peters

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, went on trial in supreme court today charged with the murder of Clarence Peters, former sailor, whose body was found sixteen months ago on a lonely road here with a bullet thru the heart.

The indictment on which he is being tried is the second Ward has faced. A year ago a grand jury charged Ward with the death, but when he maintained that he had shot in self defense after Peters had attempted to blackmail him, the indictment was dismissed.

The case was dropped last spring and Governor Smith ordered an extraordinary grand jury to conduct an inquiry. This jury returned the present indictment, charging murder in the first degree.

Ward was in court today with only one member of his immediate family—his brother Ralph—at his side. His father, George S. Ward, still remains outside the state and out of reach of process servers, while his wife was reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown at Atlantic City.

BODIES PILED UP FOR CREMATION

RUINS SEARCHED FOR KIN

Many of Dead Are Burned Beyond
Identification

TOKIO — (United Press) — Pitiful scenes are being enacted particularly at Yokohama, as the work of cremation of bodies and clearing the wreckage left by the Japanese horror of September 1, is getting under way.

At Yokohama, where the havoc was the greatest, great crowds are roaming thru the ruins of the city, where thousands of persons were burned alive, trying to pick the bodies of their relatives from the seemingly countless numbers of corpses.

The bodies, some burned crisp, others possibly still recognizable, are piled up like cordwood awaiting cremation on vast funeral pyres.

Comparatively few of the bodies are being identified, yet the efforts of the survivors are unending.

Stories coming from Yokohama tell of the people there trapped in crumbling buildings and all escape cut off by fire, singing the folk songs of Japan as they awaited unflinchingly, certain death.

The death toll in the Yokohama theatrical district, particularly in the motion picture houses, was especially heavy.

MANY SHOCKS

Official records in Tokio have disclosed that up to today 1,200 earthquake shocks, beginning with the giant upheaval of September 1 have been recorded.

But almost with the ground still quivering, plans for reconstruction are going ahead.

Premier Yamamoto has been named chief of the reconstruction commission which expects to spend five billion dollars in rebuilding Tokio alone.

Reliable figures on the foreign dead in Yokohama, just compiled, show 146 dead and 883 foreigners injured.

Most of these were Europeans.

PRINCE FAILS TO DODGE CROWD

Heir to British Throne Greeted by Throng in Quebec

MAKING TRIP AS BARON

Tires of Being Hailed as Future
Ruler of Empire

QUEBEC—(Associated Press)—The Baron of Renfrew arrived in Quebec today.

The Baron of Renfrew is none other than His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, heir to England's throne.

Tiring of being hailed as the future ruler of the British empire, the Prince of Wales chose of his many other titles to travel under and thus escape the formalities accorded a personage of royal blood. In short, he wanted to dodge the plaudits of the multitudes, enter Canada quietly and be on his way to an Alberta ranch where, the papers say, he will cut boarding house hash and other simple fare.

Did he succeed in dodging the multitudes?

He did not. A prince is a prince, even tho he be only a baron, figured the residents of Quebec. Therefore, the baron being the prince, a princely welcome was in order.

GREETED WITH CHEER
Bright and early the crowds gathered at the pier to meet Baron Renfrew (or was it the Prince of Wales they really came to meet?) and as the Empress of France steamed to her dock a lusty cheer greeted the man who, only three years before had won the hearts of Canadians and Americans with his smile.

Being only a baron, the Prince of Wales didn't even rate a special cutter in which to reach the shore. There were no officials to accord him an official reception, but the unofficial one made up for that. Even on the ship he couldn't escape the so-called "pitiless glare of publicity." Newspaper correspondents accompanied him and sent wireless messages about the trip.

SHARP CONTRAST

Despite the crowds at the pier today, however, Baron Renfrew's visit to the American continent is sharply contrasted to the one the Prince of Wales made three years ago. When he toured the continent, was greeted everywhere by huge throngs, attended numberless social functions and danced with even more untold numbers of American and Canadian girls. He made many speeches and officiated at many functions, such as laying cornerstones, planting trees and decorating troops.

Today Baron Renfrew came to Canada for a holiday. He went from the ship to the Chateau Frontenac on the bluffs, where from his window he could gaze down upon the broad St. Lawrence river. Tomorrow he will travel on a private car, attached to a regular train, and transported to Alberta. That will be the end of ceremonies.

On the ranch Baron Renfrew will live as a rancher. He will ride western horses in a western saddle; will be up early and in bed early; dancing partners are warned to keep away, and, in short, the Prince of Wales—pardon — Baron Renfrew will lead the simple life and, as the papers say, eat boarding house hash and other simple fare.

CLUB ACTIVITIES TO BE STARTED

Various High School Organizations Ready for Season

With schedules running smoothly and students already engrossed in their duties, Central high people will soon begin the annual activity in club work. Due to the week's delay in starting, schedules were almost perfectly adjusted so that no real confusion was caused.

First club work will probably start next Monday. A period each day has been set off for work of this nature and several branches of endeavor will be open to students according to Principal R. E. Offenbauer.

Some clubs such as the Senate, Girls' Welfare, Blue Triangle and "C" Association have regular meetings. They will probably start work also next week some time.

Coach R. J. Theibert will institute a football theory club soon and football aspirants will be permitted to join the club. At noon Wednesday several candidates met with him to learn more about plays thru blackboard talks.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA MEET
CINCINNATI — Daughters of Isabella from all parts of the country and numbering more than 300, were in Cincinnati today as delegates to the annual convention of the order, which opened this morning with pontifical high mass at St. Peter's cathedral. This was followed by a business session over which Mrs. Mary E. Booth of New Haven, Conn., national regent presided. Officers will be elected on Friday.

HARD COAL PRICE IS HIGHER

Federal Figures Show Lima Dealers
Battle Difficulties

SOME CITIES BUY CHEAPER

Mine Cost Here is Between $8.75
and $10.50 a Ton

Lima coal dealers are paying more at the mines for anthracite coal of stove size than any other Ohio city which takes the same freight rate from the mines, according to figures of the United States Coal commission recently received by Postmaster A. E. Gale.

Figures show that Lima pays

$8.75 to $10.50 per ton of 2,240 while Kenton, Springfield, Dayton, Troy and Van Wert pay from $8.30 to $8.40 to $9.26 and $9.50 per ton for exactly the same grade of stove coal. In all cases, except that of Van Wert, the freight rate per ton is exactly the same and in Van Wert the rate is 13 cents higher but the cost at the mine is so much lower, according to the figures, that Van Wert with the higher rate pays less for its coal.

FIGURES DETAIL COSTS

Government figures thus received show the f. o. b. mine cost, the freight rate and the cost laid down at the dealers' sidings. These figures are as follows:

Kenton, mine cost $8.40; freight rate $5.17; cost at dealers' sidings, $13.57.

Dayton, mine cost, $8.30 and $9.25; freight rate, $5.17 per ton; cost at dealers' sidings, $13.27 to $14.42.

Troy, mine cost $9.50; freight, $5.17; cost at dealers' sidings, $14.67.

Van Wert, mine cost $8.30; freight rate, $5.30, cost at dealers' sidings, $13.50.

Springfield, mine cost $8; freight rate, $5; cost at dealers' sidings, $13.

Lima, mine cost $8.75 to $10.50; freight rate, $5.17 per ton; cost at dealers' sidings, $14.40 to $15.67 per ton.

CONFERENCE EXPECTED TO PROTEST LIFTING OF SUPERINTENDENT LIMIT

CLEVELAND—Delegates to the twelfth annual meeting of the Northeast Ohio Methodist Episcopal conference more than likely will enter formal protest against the action of the last general conference, which removed the time limit of six years upon the offices of district superintendents and made it possible to hold office indefinitely.

The protest is expected to come tomorrow with the election of twelve ministerial delegates to the next general conference, which convenes in Springfield, Mass., next May. Many members express the opinion that a majority of the delegates will be pastors instead of superintendents, as has been the traditional practice.

Should the Northeast conference elect a majority from its pastors, it will be following the lead taken by the West Ohio Conference at Marion two weeks ago. The Northeast Ohio Conference is the largest in the denomination, with the West Ohio Conference next.

ATTEMPT TO LINK NEW CRIME WITH PRISONERS

DAYTON—Police here today are trying to link three prisoners held in connection with the Greenville bank robbery with the robbery of the New Paris postoffice and other jobs in the Miami Valley.

The prisoners are Eugene "Red" Webb, Burton Carter and Mrs. Jean Foley.

The new angle was developed when several rolls of stamps were found in the woman's room at Springfield. Carter, who claimed a motorcycle abandoned after the bank robbery, is said to have served time in the Ohio state prison. Webb is also said to have served a term at Frankfort, Ky. The woman's husband is Joe Foley, who is in the Springfield jail on a bootlegging charge.

EXPECT GREAT THINGS
in the NEW CADILLAC

Even the superb quality which you have long associated with the name Cadillac is no adequate measure of the merits of the New V-63.

The simple truth is that Cadillac has advanced its own standards and achieved, in this car, heights of quality which are strictly new.

Your attention is directed, particularly, to these three elements:—

The New Cadillac V-Type 90°, 8-cylinder engine—harmonized and balanced by entirely new principles of design to a degree of smoothness unapproached in automotive manufacture.

New Body Styles—destined by their graceful, symmetrical design, distinctive finish and exquisite appointments, to be the center of admiration in any company.

Cadillac 4 Wheel Brakes—a safety factor developed with the care and thoroughness characteristic of Cadillac engineering.

New delights await you also in enhanced dependability, ease of control, riding restfulness and, indeed, in every phase of car performance.

It is entirely logical that Cadillac, pioneer leader of eight-cylinder manufacture in America, should now raise multi-cylinder practice to an even higher pitch of excellence.

This is exactly what has happened in the New V-63, and Cadillac urges you to approach this fine car with great expectations.

CROOKS IN NEW ROLE

EVILS grow out of good things so often that one is impelled to wonder if there is a limit to the criminal tendencies of some minds. Reference is made to the growing abuse of the kindness and generosity of motorists on high roads who respond to requests to stop and give "a lift" to persons making long trips afoot.

So many cases have been reported where criminals use this method of aiding their nefarious vocation, that the average auto owner is becoming afraid to extend courtesies when hailed on the highway. Before thieves and thugs opened a new avenue for their dastardly work, it was considered that anyone with an auto refusing another a ride when solicited, was indeed mean and selfish.

Now it is different. In this respect Allen-co is no different from any other. The good intentioned are made to suffer refusals by reason of the fact that so many autoists have been robbed while helping others along the way. As matters now stand, it is dangerous to the auto owner to stop when hailed at night, or even in daylight sometimes.

There ought to be a new and drastic penalty for those who prey on the generous in this fashion. Development of human kindness and generosity is given a severe setback. The gunman and thug is responsible.

COLOR LURES

FISHERMEN and campers who want to be left alone by mosquitoes should wear yellow clothing. Investigations by scientists at Cambridge University in England disclose that mosquitoes stay away from yellow, having an almost unanimous aversion for it.

On the other hand, these buzzing biters flock to navy blue with great joy, it being their favorite color. Light blue, they avoid.

People who have lived in a mosquito country know that these pests are attracted by light, like moths, and naturally the best way to keep them away is to sit in darkness at night.

Mosquitoes are also attracted by the scent from warm, living bodies. Flies, on the other hand, are drawn by the odor of carrion or other decaying food.

The Cambridge scientists check up and confirm the belief that flies and mosquitoes never travel long distances except when carried by the wind. They breed nearby. An old tin can full of stagnant water is a natural mosquito incubator. Flies multiply fastest where there is a stable or garbage they can reach.

As far back as Darwin, it was proved that many insects, especially bees and butterflies, have a color sense and color preferences. Flowers display the colors that lure the insects that distribute the flowers' pollen for cross-fertilization and reproduction.

Insect life is easily the greatest natural enemy of man, next to germs. Science in studying insects is waging a sort of world war for all of us.

JAY WALKERS PAY

PERHAPS if details of all accidents wherein pedestrians have been run down and injured by autos were known, it would be found that in a large number of cases the victim was in a manner responsible for his own plight, in that he persisted in jay walking—that is, crossing a busy thoroughfare at a point between regular passages at intersections, or in disregard of traffic regulations.

In many cities the jay walker is classed as a law violator and is subjected to punishment. Many persons seem to be obsessed with the idea that they may walk safely in the street as on the sidewalk. Before the advent of the auto that was true in a measure—but not now. Vehicular traffic doesn't take to the sidewalk in perambulation.

Jay walking is dangerous. It is common practice in Lima among large numbers of persons. For their own safety, the peace of mind of drivers and as a preventative of possible injuries or deaths, citizens should cultivate the habit of crossing streets in proper places, observing traffic regulations in the meantime.

When a married man does get the last word it frequently is "Now what will I do for car fare?"

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

A little while ago a correspondent asked whether it is safe to drink water at the same meal with cucumbers, adding that mother considered it dangerous, and in answering that cucumbers are chiefly water anyhow and that there is no reason why one shouldn't drink more water with them, I referred to the pet hobbies of mothers. Mrs. G. C. S. writes a sprightly letter on the subject:

Dear Dr. Brady: You ask for pet obsessions. My mother's and grandmother's pet obsession was—eat everything that is placed before you and say nothing. Appetite and taste were our only guide. Eat the crust of bread; it will make your hair curl. Eat fat with the meat, it will stick to your ribs. So we ate all vegetables and fruits in their seasons. We never thought of germs and never heard of vitamins or calories. Two of my family are living, past 80 years, and those who are gone died of old age. Those were good old days when life was much more simple, when we were thankful for a plentiful table, and always looked up to see "Who Shook the Corn."

SAN FRANCISCO

(By A. H. FREDERICK)
SAN FRANCISCO.—By their hats do you know them in San Francisco and the bay region these days. And by the same token it's easy to spot visitors from the east. Because, upon first sight, they turn and stare at the "peculiar" hats. Oakland started it when it got the idea for a yearly Mardi Gras on the shores of Lake Merritt. The idea was conceived of forming an organization known as the "Dons of Peralta," named after the Spanish soldier who once held a royal grant for the territory where the cast bay cities now stand. But instead of the usual button, or pin, it was decided that all dons should wear a hat modeled upon the lines of the old Spanish grandees and resplendent with red and yellow ribbon. And now such hats are thicker than ants at a picnic. Then San Francisco, never to be outdone, decided that hats had to be the official regalia for welcoming the pony express riders from St. Joe. The old "beaver" game has taken a new lease on life, except the cry of "beaver!" is replaced by the "Hey, sombrero! Score one!" Modern scientific achievements were the main exhibits in two recent divorce cases here. The first one happened when a woman introduced testimony that her husband, ostensibly at the office was out joy-riding instead. "I couldn't be mistaken," she said, "because while his office was only a half dozen squares away, his speedometer would show an increase of 60 to 90 miles some evenings."

But she was eclipsed by the woman who complained that her husband was completely engrossed away from her and parlor felicity. "We hardly spoke a word a day," she said.

"H'm," pondered his honor. "Do you suspect there's any affinity?" "I should say so," the plaintiff replied. "It's that radio set he's got down in the basement."

Speaking of the march of progress, here's one that will bring grief to all former lovers of Young Wild West, Deadwood Dick, etc., of boyhood days. In the old days when there was a bad'un to break in, it was an event beloved to cowman, and if the rider "grabbed leather," or was thrown, all he got was loud guffaws and razzing. But recently a sixty-year-old cowboy on the Abode ranch of Madera was thrown by a bronc and he got $1265.40 from the State Industrial Accident Commission!

TEARING DOWN AND BUILDING UP

There is ever the tearing down
And the building up again;
There is nothing in city or town
Man fashions long to remain.
Better's a constant cry,
Bigger's a constant call,
And even beneath the sky
We fling up our towers to fall.

The sound of the blast by day
Shall deafen our puny speech,
As the old to the new gives way
And higher we strive to reach.
What was but a year ago
A glorious goal attained,
We are turning from now to know
The goal that shall be gained.

Shall ever we sit and see
The last of our building done?
Shall ever the morning be
When there's no new dream begun?
Not while men seek renown
And a drop of life's in the cup,
Shall we pause in our tearing down
The goal that shall be gained.

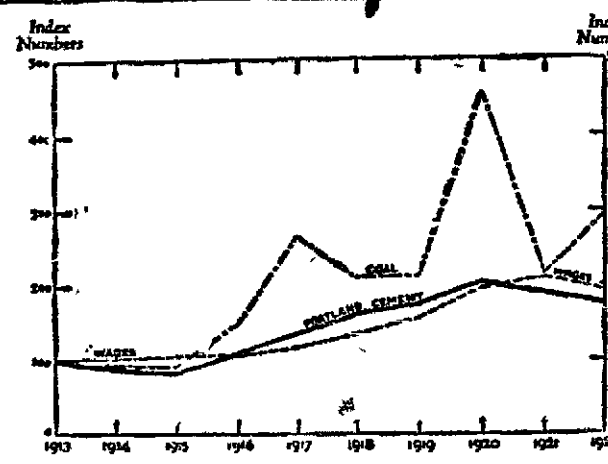

A Thought

Boast not thyself of tomorrow;
for thou knowest not what a day
may bring forth.—Prov. 27:1.

TOMORROW, didst thou say?
'Tis fancy's child, and folly is its father; wrought on such stuff as dreams are; and baseless as the fantastic visions of the evening.—Cotton.

Coal prices from Survey of Current Business, February 1923. Cement prices from U. S. Geological Survey. Wages from November (1912) Monthly Labor Review, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

More for Your Money

Swapping things—as when our grandmothers traded eggs for calico at the cross-roads store—gives a better understanding of values. By measuring one thing against another we too can often judge values more clearly.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language, this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

So, considering these increased costs, it is plain that in buying cement you get more for your money than before.

PUTNAM-CO FOLK AT DELPHOS

Take Part in Tri-County Fair
Program Wednesday

DISHONG OLDEST VISITOR

Schools Contribute to Art Hall
Exhibits of Work

DELPHOS — Wednesday was Putnam-co day at the tri-county fair. Hundreds of visitors from the county to the north were present during the day.

Indign began in the various departments at 9:30 a. m. Judges expected a thorough workout because of the capacity displays in each department. The day was held in a big hall, the main part of which was the big tent, Main-street, at the intersection with First-street, near the intersection with First-street, was the program.

Lowering clouds threatened to send showers Tuesday, but fortunately no drop of rain fell until evening, when the major part of the program had been completed.

OLDEST VISITOR

J. M. Dishong, Spencerville, was the oldest pioneer resident of this vicinity present at the tri-county fair. He is 93 years old and has been a resident of the fair and at its conclusion on the oldest will be awarded a trophy.

The Spencerville man outlasted a 92-year-old Tuesday his two closest rivals. He reported his age as 93, Alexander Ruderer and John Scott, both of Delphos are each 91. Henry Langert, Delphos, the fourth to register, is 90.

Patience is unknown to Dishong, who ascribes his long life to regular habits and drinking of plenty of water. He has been a resident of the fair and at its conclusion on the oldest will be awarded a trophy.

WILLIAMS QUILTS AS MAYOR

John H. Altenburger Succeeds as Delphos Chief

DELPHOS — Best wishes for future prosperity and happiness of the city were extended by J. H. Williams in his address to the citizens at the mayor's inauguration ceremony at the city hall Tuesday night at a meeting of the city council. Williams will leave soon for California where he will join his family and make his future home.

His resignation will be effective Saturday. It was so stated that the salary for September may be split evenly between Williams and his successor, John H. Altenburger, who will automatically succeed to the mayor's office.

Williams was mayor during one of the most stormy periods of the city's history.

His last monthly report was accepted Tuesday night. It showed a collection of $49 in fines and licenses.

His successor, John H. Altenburger, a candidate on the Democratic ticket for president of council at the November election. He is employed at J. M. and expects to transfer to the office of the city clerk when he returns from work. John Scherger will succeed him as president of council leaving a vacancy in one of the councilmen-at-large positions which may be filled by appointment of one of the Democratic nominees. The other is J. A. Sandier or Herman Pampert.

ASSISTANT NAMED

DELPHOS — According to information from Toledo sources, Rev. John H. Williams, who was ordained this year, has been named by Bishop Samuel Strick of the Toledo diocese, as a second assistant at St. John's Catholic church here. Confirmation is being sought by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Scherger, from the bishop. The appointment will give the church two assistants. The other is Rev. A. J. Bishop.

ATTENDS MEET

DELPHOS — Mrs. Henry Gremling, a member of the state convocation of the W. C. T. U., which has just been completed in Columbus.

CAR TOLEEN AT DELPHOS

DELPHOS — A Ford touring car, owned by Charles Gremling, south of Delphos, was stolen from its parking place on E. Third-st. Tuesday night. The street is being used for parking place of the tri-county fair exhibits on Main-st. Police pursued the car, but the car was not recovered. Funds will be sent out to various police departments. The license number is 733-607. It is a 1923 model.

CORA SUING DORA FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Cora Hoy Says Husband
Failed to Provide Home

Which is the husband and which the wife?

Cora Hoy has instituted suit for divorce in common pleas court naming Dora Hoy defendant.

Cora might be the name of the wife, but Dora is a girl's name too. The petition explains who is who, when referring to Dora, as defendant, which says he has not provided a home for the plaintiff.

Cora recites that she married Dora in 1915, and that there are two children, Ella Pauline and Russell. Dora was drunk frequently, she says, and spent most of his time in jail.

Alimony is sought by the plaintiff, who asks the decree on desertion grounds.

RISSEY FUNERAL

D. R. Rissey, Vaughnsville, who died Monday at his home, will be buried Thursday at 1 p. m. with services at the Christian church. Burial will be made in Cleveland cemetery. Deceased was 58 years old.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

A 20-year-old youth, missing for one week, is sought by police. He is Clyde Carden, son of Mrs. A. G. Carden, 1016 E. High-st. The mother reported to police that her son left home on Wednesday, August 5, and hasn't been heard from.

Any newboy of Lima who feels that he has talent for the stage is invited to participate in a special "newboys' contest," which will be held Wednesday night at the 7:30 performance at the New Orpheum theatre. Prizes will be given to the winners.

Prominent Elks here from Columbus for the clam bake included Paul Elsie, assistant to the publisher of The Ohio State Journal; Ed Durham, the widely known laundryman; Waldo Wade, an underwriter; William Seden, Dan Cannon, Charles Jencks and John Ranney, secretary of the Columbus lodge.

Hearing of a petition to file the Baxter ditch west of Lima at a section situated north and south of Ail-town-rd., was postponed until September 27, by the county commissioners Wednesday.

Mrs. D. J. Cable of Springdale Farm, entertained the Board of Directors of the Y. W. C. A., members of the Geneva Club and delegates to Y. W. C. A. Conference at Winona Lake, with a covered dish supper at her home Tuesday evening. Conference echoes and songs followed.

Mayor Harold Cunningham has received a request from the state council of the Retail Merchants' association asking him to answer a questionnaire of 19 questions relative to taxation in this city the questionnaire dealing with the proposed referendum on the Taft bill. The mayor will answer the questions and return them to the council to be used in the campaign on the Taft bill referendum.

Three more days remain in which to pay the third installment of the 1923 income taxes at the federal building, J. C. Marsh, deputy internal revenue collector, announced Wednesday. He said that he will close his close Wednesday at 1 p. m. and those who do not have their installments actually in his office at that hour will be reported for penalty and interest charges. If the installment is sent by mail, it must reach his office by the hour indicated, he said.

Denial that she injured her husband's head during a family quarrel was made Wednesday by Mrs. Jack Rodney, the great herd nut.

PRIZE BULL WILL APPEAR AT THE PUTNAM-CO FAIR

OTTAWA — One of the most expensive bulls in the world will be at the Putnam-co fair next week.

It will be brought here with the Ohio State University herd and according to J. H. Hencenorth, county agricultural extension agent, will be one of the big attractions at the fair.

A short horn steer, sired by the great bull "Rodey," that topped the famous Carpenter & Ross's sale at Mansfield in August will be among the Ohio State university View herd, which this year will be at the fair.

Rodey, the great herd nut, topped the Carpenter & Ross's sale at $1,600 despite the present cattle depression. Several other cattle of prominence will be in the herd.

PUTNAM-CO W. C. T. U. TO HAVE REST ROOM AT FAIR

OTTAWA — Women of the Putnam-co W. C. T. U. will be in charge of the rest room at the fair next week.

Frances Beach, superintendent of the County Fair department and her assistants, will welcome all visitors and patrons.

Program will be along the line of National Constitution week. Miss Mildred Agner will sing at the morning service. Dr. Parrish had for his initial sermon, at the first service last Sunday following his return to his congregation here, after conference, the subject "This is the Third Time I am Come Into You" from Corinthians.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH AT OTTAWA RESUMES SERVICES

OTTAWA — Community services will be resumed Sunday night at Trinity Methodist church, with an out-of-town speaker in attendance. Dr. P. Ross Parrish, pastor of the church says a widely-known platform orator from Lima may be able to come here at that time.

Program will be along the line of National Constitution week. Miss Mildred Agner will sing at the morning service. Dr. Parrish had for his initial sermon, at the first service last Sunday following his return to his congregation here, after conference, the subject "This is the Third Time I am Come Into You" from Corinthians.

PASTORS ARE RETURNED

COLUMBUS GROVE — Rev. J. V. Shock, pastor of the United Brethren church for the past several years, was returned to the pastorate here at close of the annual conference in Toledo. Rev. W. E. Strite, who has served as pastor at Continental, also was returned.

START SECOND TERM

OTTAWA — Two officials in Putnam-co are just starting on their second term after having been re-elected to office after the stamp of approval had been placed on their administrations by the people of the county.

They are J. W. Heckman, of Glandorf, and D. R. Hinkle, of Vaughnsville. Heckman was re-elected recorder and Hinkle was made treasurer. Heckman is a democrat and Hinkle is a republican.

LIMA ELKS AND FRIENDS HOLD ANNUAL CLAM BAKE

Members of Lima Lodge of Elks and their friends held their annual Clam Bake at McBeth's Park Wednesday. More than 1,000 were on the grounds before dinner was served. Each man wore a high hat, distinctive from that worn in other years. No one was admitted to the grounds without this hat.

LIMA BEHIND IN RELIEF QUOTA

Lack $1,155 in Meeting Goal Set by Workers

Lima is $1,155 behind its quota of $3,500 in the entire county quota of $4,500 for the Japanese relief, according to figures made public Wednesday noon by Campaign Chairman A. C. CaJacob. He said that this deficiency is due to the failure of the churches, lodges and clubs to come thru with the full amounts expected when it was originally planned to close the drive Tuesday evening.

No reports had been received up to Wednesday noon from Harrod, allotted $100, nor Elida, allotted $100 according to Chairman CaJacob.

DELPHOS REPORTS

Chairman W. J. Steinle of the Delphos committee reported Wednesday noon that half of the town's quota is subscribed.

Lima workers met Tuesday evening at the Elks' club and voted to redouble their efforts not only to put Lima across but to help the nonreporting towns get over with their quotas. Chairman CaJacob said that plan is for the city committee to send workers out into the towns which have not reported and help them along with the drive.

No figures of individual subscriptions are being made public by the campaign committee, he said. "We are confident that except for the collections to be taken in the churches next Sunday, we will have the full county quota completed Thursday night," was his statement.

HEAVY OVERSUBSCRIPTION

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Over-subscription of the Japanese relief fund of the American Red Cross continued to mount today, already totaling $5,563,000 with the Washington, Central and New England divisions all in excess of their allotments in the $5,000,000 campaign.

John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, emphasized today that none of the money being collected for Japanese relief would be used for administrative expenses. He informed the society's executive committee at its daily meeting that arrangements have been completed for the organization to absorb all administrative expenses in handling the fund.

Prospects of exceeding by an adequate amount the original figure which has been declared by Red Cross officials on the basis of more comprehensive reports from Japan to have been too low to meet the needs of the situation, were found today to be growing brighter. The Washington division which comprises eleven states, had exceeded its allotment by more than $40,000 and subscriptions continued to be reported. Other divisions also sent in optimistic reports.

PRELIMINARY HEARING OF FRANK COTNER RESUMED

Preliminary hearing of Frank H. Cotner, former Lafayette bank cashier, and Sunday school superintendent on forgery charges will be resumed before Justice of Peace E. M. Borkin Thursday.

Books of the bank which were examined by an expert accountant, prior to Cotner's retirement a year ago, will be in court for reference.

Depositors of the bank, who were instrumental in filing charges against the financier, will be there with great stacks of cancelled checks notes and pass books.

Extent of the alleged check operations covers a period of years, according to assertions of witnesses. The amount of money involved is alleged to have run into hundreds of dollars.

Cotner will likely take the stand in his own behalf.

BEAVERDAM NEEDS CASH

Beaverdam, like some communities with much more dense population is in need of cash, a petition filed at the board of elections office Wednesday disclosed. The little old petition asks that the question of issuing $1,300 worth of bonds to improve the electric light plant be submitted to the village voters on November 6.

GIRL'S FOOT CRUSHED

Pauline Allen, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Allen, 207 E. McDonel-st., suffered a badly crushed foot Wednesday morning while on her way to work at the Bernhard Paper Co when an automobile in which John Perrine and Andy Taylor, striking street car men, were riding struck an iron curbing at W. Market-st and the square, hurling the piece of iron onto the girl's foot. She was removed to City hospital and later to her home.

Hundreds Attend G. A. R. Reunion at Memorial Hall

THREE REGIMENTS GATHER

Elaborate Programs Arranged for Annual Meeting

Tales of battle fields, stories of the old days and friendships renewed, were common occurrences at Memorial Hall Wednesday when three regiments of the G. A. R. held the opening sessions of their two-day reunion.

Over 100 veterans and their wives had registered at noon Wednesday. Regiments combining in the reunion are the 118th, 81st, 99th, and 154th Ohio volunteer infantry.

THIRTY-EIGHTH REUNION

This is the 38th annual reunion of the 81st regiment. This regiment held a special program Wednesday afternoon. An address by Rev. G. C. Ryan was one of the main features of the program. Rev. W. C. Spayde also gave a short talk.

Nineteen members of the regiment had registered by noon but this number was expected to be increased, here are 170 veterans of the regiment still living out of the original enrollment of 1861. The regiment was organized in 1861 and was not discharged until after the war.

D. Harpster of West Cairo claims to be the oldest soldier of the regiment. He is 82 years old and was in the service from September 1861 to September 1865.

J. H. Barber, Beaverdam, claims one record of the regiment. He says he has been married longer than any other member. Mr. and Mrs. Barber are both attending the reunion and will celebrate their 58th wedding anniversary in March. Barber served three years in the army.

LIMA REGIMENT ACTIVE

One hundred and eighteen regiment is celebrating its 52nd annual reunion. It was 61 years ago this month that members of this regiment left Lima for the front. There were 1,000 members of the regiment then. Now that number has dwindled to about 100 and members are scattered all over the county. Only 15 had registered by noon Wednesday.

The 118th regiment held a special program Wednesday afternoon. Rev. G. B. Garner delivered the principal address.

The 99th regiment is holding their 47th annual reunion in connection with the other three regiments. Thirteen members had registered Wednesday morning.

John S. Eyer of Van Wert, is the oldest soldier now registered at the hall. He is 87 years old. O. C. Colman, a veteran of both the 99th and 180th came from Chekova, Kansas, to attend the reunion. He is 78 years old. He has come the greatest distance to the reunion as far as is known.

Nine members of the 54th regiment have registered. There are 76 members still living in this territory and the majority are expected to attend the reunion. This is the 35th reunion of this regiment.

NEXT REUNION AT WAPAK

Next year's reunion of this regiment will be held at Wapakoneta. Officers elected for the next year are: George Connors, president, Isaac Miller, vice president; John Klineheart, secretary and Frank Dekker, treasurer. All officers are residents of Wapakoneta.

The 54th regiment left Camp Denison with a roll of 800 men in 1861. When they were discharged at Little Rock, Arkansas, only 300 members remained.

Veterans of the regiment fought in practically all the big battles of the Civil War. They were at Shiloh, the siege of Vicksburg and Atlanta, with Sherman on his march to the sea and on the march thru the Carolinas as well as a number of smaller battles.

HOLD JOINT CAMPFIRE

Joint campfire of the four regiments will be held at Memorial Hall Wednesday evening. Mayor Harold Cunningham will deliver the address of welcome. S. H. Keirns will respond for the soldiers. Rev. Samuel Martin Griffith, Dayton, chaplain in the Spanish American war and serving his fifth year as department chaplain of Ohio Spanish War veterans, will deliver the principal address of the evening.

Rev. G. B. Garner will lead in prayer. Short talks will be given by comrades and others. Joseph T. Bushong will act as chairman of the meeting.

ONE-MILL LEVY PETITIONS CANNOT HELP NEW PROPOSAL

Names of voters signed to a one-mill levy petition circulated by city firemen, cannot be used on a new petition calling for a vote on a three-mill levy proposal, A. J. Morris, election board clerk, ruled Wednesday.

According to Morris, entirely new petitions must be circulated, and the sheets already signed for the one-mill levy proposal discarded.

Based on a registration of 19,500, the petitions will have to be signed by 2,923 voters to put the proposal on the ballot. Furthermore, Morris added that the petition must be in his office in time to print the ballots, 30 days prior to the election.

WOMEN JURORS ON INCREASE

Every Panel Has Feminine
Representation

That women are commencing to wield an increasing influence in the determination of court cases in Altoona is shown by the gradual increasing number of feminine jurors who are being called into service.

Where one year ago one or two women were called on every panel, women are being selected in greater numbers today.

Fully one-third of the panels called for common pleas and probate court cases Wednesday are women. Court officers believe women will soon outnumber men jurors, and decide cases from a feminine angle.

Lawyers find women jurors as easy to argue to as men, and often easier to convince on a point of law. Court officers like to have them on the panel, because fewer of them ask to be excused from service.

The members were served with notice to appear for duty early in the week.

The common pleas jury for the remainder of the May term of court are: Harry Patterson, Bluffton, Clara Laman, American-tp Marv Miller, Cairo; Della Price, Sugar Creek-tp; Dennis Diller, Richmond-tp; Lulu Howe, Spencerville; J. H. Beach, Spencer-tp; Marion McGee, Pearl Hotchkiss, Ora C. Point, Reed Ward, Dora Heil, Del Holmes, William Boya, Clem Harden, E. Mason, Mary Jane Becker, Lena F. Fuyder, Joe Webb, Coral J. McKennon, Dorris Snyder, W. R. Jones, R. J. Fellows, J. W. Drennen, all of Lima.

Probate jurors called for service in the trial of an appropriation suit, filed by the city of Lima against J. M. Patterson, to condemn a new outlet over the Pennsylvania tracks from Jameson-av to the Harding highway, will be G. L. White, Bessie Emerson, Irene Myers, Mary Cashman, J. A. Cox, Grace Condit, Val Hell, Askey Steward, H. L. Buchanan, George Hall, W. C. Boda, Russell Vannatta, Russell Rice, all of Lima; W. A. Carroll, Bath-tp; Clara Murray, Bluffton, J. Pohlman, Amanda-tp.

PRESTON BLUNDEN NAMED ESTATE ADMINISTRATOR

Preston J. Blunden, was appointed administrator of the estate of E. J. Blunden, in probate court Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Blunden, 58, of 1013 N. McDonel-st, widow of the deceased, is named as executrix under the will. She will receive a life estate in the property of the decedent. Provision is made for the estate to pass to children of the decedent at her death.

The estate is valued at $11,070 records show. Four sons and daughters are in succession for the property. They are Mrs. Norma Ransbottom, 32, Elida; Preston Blunden, 23, and Lenora B. Bogart, 21, Lima, and Carter H. Blunden, 24, Lafayette. Appraisers are John Boone, J. T. Talmadge, J. H. Bushong.

SCOUTS PLANNING DAD-SON FEED

First Annual Banquet Will be Held September 21

Lima Boy Scouts organizations have launched plans for their first annual Father and Son banquet which will be held at the Elks club dining rooms Friday, Sept. 21, starting at 6:30 p. m. Scout Executive C. L. Conrad announced Wednesday.

Among the entertainment plans already provided is a movie show depicting scout activities in all forms. A committee consisting of Martin Ellis, Ed. N. Pierce, F. W. Morris, Floyd R. Doyle, Charles Malzen and Frank Shenk is in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

Fathers who have no sons are expected to adopt a son for that particular night and Executive Conrad is now busy lining up sonless fathers and fatherless sons in order that everybody shall get in on the big feed.

FRIEND OF RILEY

Members of the Lima Lions club enjoyed a rare treat Wednesday when Arthur McArthur, Travers City, Mich., an intimate friend and authority of James Whitcomb Riley, delivered an address on the beloved Hoosier poet.

McArthur's talk differed from the usual stereotyped address, being full of intimate personal facts concerning Riley and his life.

Jingle Writers Awarded Prizes

Results of Mapl-Flake Jingle Contest Announced in Chicago

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 11.—Thousands of people who entered jingles in the contest, originated by the Armour Grain Company will be interested to learn that the six judges awarded first prize of $250 to L. E. McLeod, Brewer, Me.

The second capital prize of $150 was won by Rev. John W. Dennis, Tully, N. Y.; third prize of $75 by Chester A. Griffith, Franklin, N. H.; fourth prize, $50, Mrs. Z. L. Potter, Utica, N. Y.; fifth prize, $25, Mrs. W. F. Dains, Williamston, Mich.

The $10 prizes were awarded to Mrs. John C. Taylor, East Lansing, Mich.; Helen M. Spencer, Janesville, Wis.; Lawrence J. Cream, New Britain, Conn.; James Anderson, Buffalo, N. Y.; E. D. Dodson, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Henry E. Muchmore, Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss Marion McMan, Shenectady, N. Y.; Mrs. Florence Murphy, Akron, N. Y.; M. A. Hanscom, Portsmouth, N. H.

The response to the contest which was published in more than 100 newspapers was overwhelming, thousands upon thousands of jingles deluging the judges until the selection of prize winners became exceedingly difficult. A total of 165 prizes was awarded.

The jingle which won the first prize is:

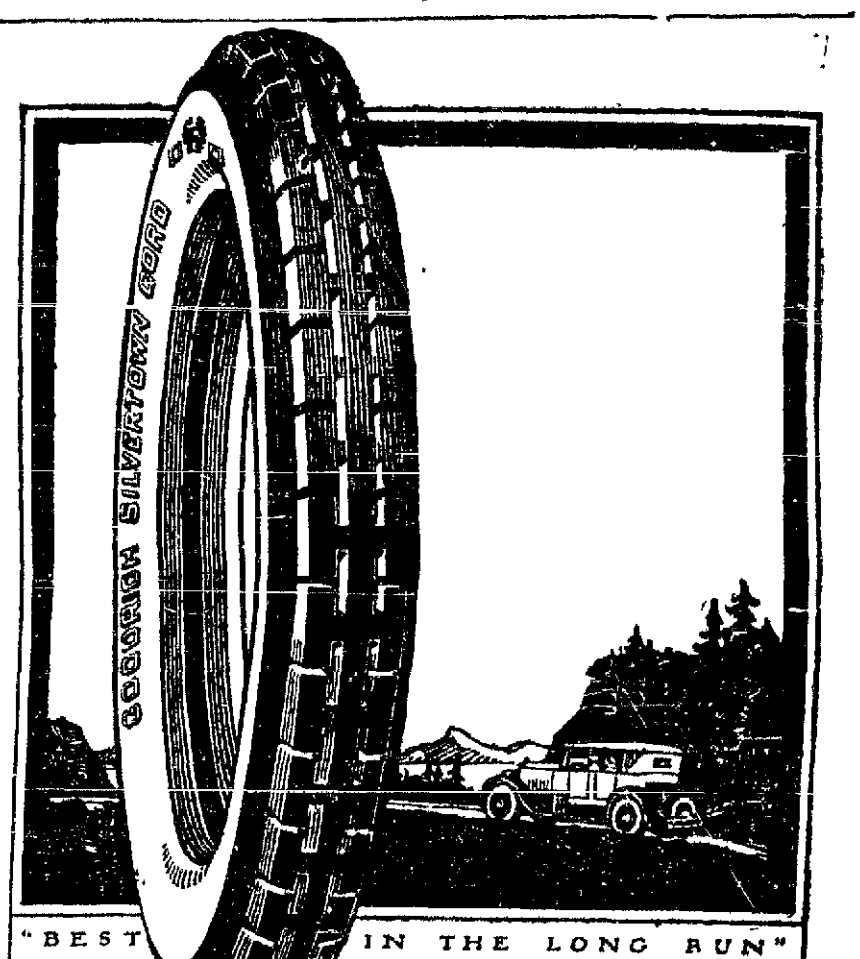

"Instead of pills to cure your ills,
eat Mapl-Flake each day.
It re-creates and regulates your health in Nature's way—
Whole wheat for strength and energy,
with bran to sweep out waste;
With milk or cream, a perfect food,
that pleases every taste."

BRADLEY HOME IS SCENE OF PARTY

THE lovely W. C. Bradley home in Shawnee will be the scene of an attractive party Wednesday afternoon when Miss Violet Bradley will preside at a four o'clock tea for Miss Mary Parmenter, bride-elect of Leslie Reid of New York city. In the receiving line with Miss Bradley and Miss Parmenter will be Mrs. Warren Parmenter of Shidler, Okla.

The tea-table will have as a centerpiece a platter basket of garden flowers, with the various shades of yellow the predominating colors. Baskets of marigolds and daisies will be used through the living rooms of the house. Mrs. Emmett Curtis, Jr., and Mrs. Harry Gayer of Cincinnati will assist Miss Bradley in serving the buffet tea and Mrs. W. C. Bradley will pour.

Those who have accepted Miss Bradley's invitation for tea this afternoon are Misses Parmenter, Magdalen Stollenbach, Catharine Galvin, Janet White, Elizabeth Moulton, Gertrude Boose, Martha Roby, Rosalie Stagle, Margaret Gregg, Abigail Sullivan, Florence Price, Betty Laughlin, Marion Cable, Elizabeth Clark and Ruth West of Wilmington.

Mesdames T. B. Green, W. L. Reid, Clair Toland, Mack Colt, W. L. Parmenter, George Carter, Harley Holmes, C. B. Seiffert, M. S. Thompson, Edna Neely Rogers, C. F. Lufkin, Harry Wright, Virgil Kniesley, Wallace King, Emmett Curtis, Jr., John Galvin, Ronda Gray, E. N. Zettlitz, Roy B. Gregg, Dwight O'Farrell of Atlantic, Ga., William Kirk of Toledo, Harry Gayer of Cincinnati and Warren Parmenter of Shidler, Okla.

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shepherd, 644 E. Franklin-st., of the marriage of their son, Lester, to Miss Frances Whotton of Kenton. The marriage was solemnized in Monroe, Mich., on August 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd are making their home in Cincinnati at present, where the groom is attending school. They will return the first of next year and make their home here.

Mrs. J. D. S. Neely, S. Cole-st., has returned from a several weeks' stay at Bay View, Mich.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: SHORT time ago I was invited to a party while at the party, one of the fellows took in a collection, and, of course, asked me to donate. I contributed like the others, but was much surprised at such a proceeding. If I gave a party I would be much insulted if anyone started a collection to help me pay for it.

On the way home I mentioned this to one of my friends and told him how I felt. He told me to invite guests to a party and then expect them to share in the expense. He claims it is perfectly all right and that whenever he holds a party expects someone to start a collection.

I am practically a stranger in Lima. In this sort of thing you have to go, or was this an exceptional instance.

Such a proceeding is not a general thing here, whatever the custom may be of the crowd of young people you mention. Often, however, if the affair is a picnic or other outdoor affair the expenses are shared.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a girl 17 years old. I want to go to work but am afraid to ask for a job. I hate to speak to strangers. I am fairly good looking and tall for my age. What kind of work do you think I could get?

LONGSOME. The thing for you to do is to get as much schooling as possible so when you are old enough to obtain work you will be capable of filling a good position.

Your choice of work should be decided largely by what you like best to do.

A year ago we lived in another state. While there we owned a man a large sum of money. The only thing we have to show for it is the promissory note he signed.

We wrote to him several times that the note is due, once by registered letter. But he has ignored our letters. Is there any way to force him to pay the debt?—M. S.

If a man is able to pay the money you doubtless can compel him to do so. Consult an attorney about the legal steps necessary.

When would be the proper time to send out cards announcing a marriage?—Delphi.

They usually are sent out the day of the ceremony or the following day.

ILLINOIS "COP" IS STRIPPED
Constable Leaves Minus Liquor Gun and $200

E. S. Walsh, 32, salesman and member of the Illinois Constabulary, left Lima Tuesday evening, minus one pint of liquor, a big revolver and $200, but some-what wiser as result of two encounters with Ohio law officers.

Walsh was arrested on the Dixie highway in Shawnee-tp Monday night, after farmers had notified Constable Ike J. Hall, 60, the man was driving southward in an intoxicated condition.

While searching about in his car to find the keys demanded by the officer, Walsh suddenly produced a gun. Hall grappled with him and twisted the weapon from his grasp.

FRENCH ISN'T NECESSARY IN PARIS BECAUSE MONEY TALKS BY ITSELF

(BY MARIAN HALE)

PARIS — (Special) — The most difficult person to find in Paris at the present time is the one I expected to see in the greatest numbers—the typical Parisienne.

Having been led to believe since early childhood that this city is the Mecca of Fashion and that every stylish woman turned her face to it at least twice a year, I naturally expected to find the streets of Paris swarming with the originals of French drawings I've so frequently admired in fashion journals.

Imagine my surprise to find that the women I see in the Rue de la Paix or the Avenue de l'Opera or any of the streets in the smart shopping section, dressed just as we dress in any American city, and to hear them all talking plain United States.

Or fancy going to the magnificent Opera House, which is much more gorgeous than any postcard ever portrayed it, and the stronghold of fashion and elegance during the winter season, and hearing not a word of French, except those sung on the stage.

PARLEZ-VOUS UNNECESSARY
Imagine, too, mine own feeling of futility when I try to use a few of the lines I memorized so diligently in my book of common French phrases, and am properly squelched by a polite but firm French salesperson who answers my question in perfect English and makes that the language of our transaction.

It took me a couple of days to realize that Paris in August is not nearly so much the capital of France as it is a suburb of the United States. It is our American women who are attending the openings of the smart couturiers whose names are as familiar in America as they are in France. And the Parisienne shopkeepers will tell you, in the American women who wear the smart frocks and determine the style and trend today.

Regarding the true Parisienne, I learned from a cabman, formerly from Hoboken, N. J., who still retains the American slang current in the early twentieth century, that she has withdrawn to a fashionable watering place, or if she be aristocratic but poor, she draws the curtains of her Paris mansion, and does not leave her portals before September, thus giving the effect of having been away. So we Americans share the fashionable hotels, sidewalk cafes, theaters and music halls with the other tourists.

Some PAINLESS EXTRACTION
But if the Parisienne has deserted us, the couturiers have not.

Conquers Hay Fever Within 24 Hours

Specialists New Prescription Brings Guaranteed Relief—Test FREE

At last Hay Fever has yielded to modern medical science. A wonderful new prescription by a Cleveland specialist is guaranteed to banish every symptom within 24 hours.

This new treatment, perfected by physicians of The Clinical Laboratories, Cleveland, Ohio, is known as Dr. Platt's Rinex Prescription, and works on an entirely new principle. Science now has ample proof that Hay Fever is due not to mere surface irritation, but to an actual infection of the system caused by the absorption of raw protein from pollens, etc. Other treatments do not attempt to get at this cause. But Rinex taken in convenient capsule form, goes direct to the infection in the system and neutralizes it. The result in 95% of all cases is complete relief in 24 hours.

No matter how long you have had Hay Fever—no matter where you live or how many other treatments you have tried in vain—Rinex is positively guaranteed to bring you complete relief within 24 hours—or it costs you nothing.

You can have a 24-hour trial package free by making a written request to The Clinical Laboratories, Cleveland, Ohio, and enclose Old or help defray postage, cost of packing, etc. But you take no risk in buying the $1.00 package direct from your drug store because if the treatment does not help you in 24 hours, the druggist will promptly refund your dollar.

Get Rinex today and just TRY it. Remember, there are no narcotics or other harmful drugs—no bad after-effects. Incidentally it is sold under the name money-back guarantee to completely relieve Asthma and Catarrh. Be sure to get the genuine Dr. Platt's Rinex. It is on sale in this city at Hunter's Drug Store, A. T. Baldwin, Enterprise Drug Store and Mykranitz Co.—Adv.

The Isle Of Retribution

BY EDISON MARSHALL

BESS KNEW TODAY
Ned Cornet takes his fiancée, Lenore, and the latter's mother on a voyage to Northern Canada and Alaska. He has two thousand milk and velvet cows to exchange with the Indians. The craft is destroyed in a gale and the passengers are forced into the life-rafts. In one boat is Captain Knutson. Ned, Lenore and Bess, a companion. Ned is sighted by the captain's stress. Lenore is left with the man on the shore. When they land the man tells them his name is Doomsdorf. Ned helps Lenore to Doomsdorf's cabin and Bess is left with Captain Knutson. Doomsdorf sets the life-raft adrift, and when Knutson tries to save it, Doomsdorf shoots the captain dead.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
She fought back the instinct to scream out her story from the doorway. At the bidding of an instinct so sure and true that it partook of a quality of infallibility, she checked her wild pace before she crossed the threshold. Everything depended on Ned and the cool, strong quality of Ned's nerves. She caught her breath in a curious deep gasp, then stepped into the room.

Then that gasp became very nearly a sob. The way of deliverance was not clear. A wrinkled native woman, an Aleut or an Eskimo, who was evidently Doomsdorf's wife, looked up at her with dark inscrutable eyes from the opposite side of the room.

The whole picture went home to Bess in a glance. Lenore was huddled in a chair before the stove, shivering herself to the blessed warmth, already shaking off the semi-apathy induced by the night's chill. But as yet there was no hope in her. She was shivering, helpless, impatient. Ned bent over her, his arms about her, now and then giving her sips from a cup of hot liquid that he held in his hand. His care, his tender solicitude, struck Bess with a sense of unutterable irony. Evidently he had no suspicion of the real truth.

He looked up as Bess entered. Partly because the light was dim, partly because he was absorbed in the work of caring for Lenore to the exclusion of all other thought, he failed to see the drawn look of horror on Bess' face. "I'll need a little help here, Miss Gilbert," he said. "I want to get this girl to bed. The night seemed to go harder with her than with the rest of us, and rest is the best thing for her."

Bess almost sobbed aloud. At that instant she knew she must work alone. She must make no sign of her own desperation before this stolid squaw. And yet she almost screamed with horror when she realized that any second she might hear Doomsdorf's step on the threshold. She glanced about till she located the Russian's rifle, hung on the "all almost in front of the squaw's chair."

"Did you hear a shot?" she asked. With all the powers of her spirit, she kept her voice commonplace, casual. "Yes," Ned answered. "It wasn't anything—was it?" His tone became cold. "Will you please give me a little help with Miss Hardenworth?" "It was a bear—Mr. Doomsdorf shot it with his pistol," she went on in the same casual way. She thought it incredible that they would not take alarm from the wild beating of her heart. She turned easily to the squaw. "He wants me to bring his rifle so he can shoot it again," she said. "That's it—on the wall?" She stepped toward the weapon. "Sure—take him gun," the squaw answered her.

Now the Indian was getting up and presently was lifting down the weapon. But she did not put it at once into Bess' hands. She pushed back the lever, revealing the empty breach. Then Bess saw a slow drawing of her lips—a cruel upturning that was seemingly as near as she could come to a smile.
"Sure—take him gun," she said. "Got any shells?" Bess shook her head. Her heart paused in her breast. "Maybe him got shells. He took 'em all out when he saw your canoe come in."

XV
If, like her husband, the brown squaw was a devotee of cruelty, she must have received great satisfaction from the sight of that slender, girlish figure standing in the gloom of the cabin. The fact that there were no shells in the rifle—otherwise a desperate agent of escape—seemed nothing less than the death of hope.
She heard Doomsdorf's heavy step at the door.
The man came in, for an instant standing framed by the doorway, the light of morning behind him. He turned contemptuously to Ned. "What's the matter?" he asked. Startled and indignant at the tone, Ned instinctively straightened. "I didn't say anything was the matter. Where's Knutson?"

"Knutson—has gone on. Hell didn't suit him. He went against its mandates the first thing. I hope it doesn't happen again—I would hate to lose any more of you. I've other plans in mind."

Appalled, unbelieving, yet obeying a racial instinct that goes back to the roots of time, Ned dropped the girl from his arms and leaped to his feet. His eyes blazed with a magnificent burst of fury, and a mighty oath was at his lips. "You—" he began.

Yet no second word came. Doomsdorf's great body lunged across the room with the ferocity and might of a charging bear. His arm went out like a javelin, great fingers extended, and clutched with the effect of a mighty mechanical trap the younger man's throat. He caught him as he might catch a vicious dog he intended to kill, snatching him off his feet. Ned's arm lashed out impotently, and forcing thru with his own body, Doomsdorf thrust him into the corner. For a moment he battered him back and forth, hammering his head against the wall, then let him fall to a huddled heap on the floor.

Lenore's voice, raised in a piercing scream of horror; but a fiercer instinct took hold of Bess. The impulse that moved her was simply that to fight to death, now as well as later. A heavy hammer, evidently a tool recently in use by Doomsdorf, lay on the window sill, and she sprang for it with the strength of desperation. But her hand had hardly touched it before she herself was hurled back against the log wall behind her.

The squaw had not sat supine in this stress. With the swiftness and dexterity of an animal, she had sprung to intercept the deadly blow, hurling the girl back by her hand upon the latter's shoulder.

Except for the huddled heap in the blood-spattered corner of the cabin, it was as if it had never happened. The squaw was again stolid, moving slowly back to her chair; Doomsdorf breathing quietly and evenly. The two girls stood staring in speechless horror.

"I hope there won't be any more of that," Doomsdorf said quietly. "The sooner we get these little matters straightened out, the better for all concerned. It isn't pleasant to be hammered to pieces, is it?"

He took one step toward Ned, and Lenore started to scream again. But he inflicted no further punishment. He reached a strong hand, seized Ned's shoulder, and snatched him to his feet.

Racked by pain but fully conscious, Ned looked into the glittering eyes. It was no longer possible to disbelieve in this hairy giant before him. Doomsdorf walked to the door and threw it wide.

"There's snow and cold out there," his voice was deeply sober. "Death, too—sure as you're standing here. A weakling like you can't live in that, out there. None of your kind can stand it—they'd die like so many sheep. And as a result you have to bow down and serve the man that can!"

Ned had no answer. The greatest fear of his life was clamping down upon him.

"That's the law up here—that the weak have to serve the strong. I've beat the North at its own game, and it serves me, just as you're going to serve me now. You can go out there if you like—if you prefer to die. There's no boat to carry you off. There never will be a boat to carry you off."

He paused, smiling grimly; then:

with an explosive motion, pulled back the head of the stove and threw in another log. "Sit down, why don't you?" he invited. "I don't insist on my servants standing up always in my presence. You'll have to sit down sometime, you know."

Lenore, wholly despondent, sank back in her seat. To show that she was still her protector, Ned stood behind her, his hands resting on the back of her chair. Bess stole to a little rough seat between them and the squaw.

A single great chair was left vacant, almost in the middle of the circle. Doomsdorf glanced once about the room as if guarding against any possibility of surprise attack by his prisoners, then sat down easily himself. "Excuse me for not making you known to my woman," he began. "In fact I haven't even learned your own names. She is, translating from the vernacular, 'Owl-That-Never-Sleeps.' You won't be expected to call her that, however—albeit I regret as a general thing that the picturesque native names so often undergo such laceration on the tongues of the whites. When I took her from her village, they gave her to me as 'Sindy.' You may call her that. It will do as good as any—every other squaw from Tin City to Ketchikan is called Sindy. It means nothing as far as I know. You'll be interested to know that you are on one of the supposedly uninhabited islands of the Skopin group. Other islands are grouped all around you, making one big snow field when the ice closes down in winter. I could give you almost your exact longitudinal position, but it wouldn't be the least good to you. The population consists of five people—the various bear caribou, and such like. The principal industry, as you will find out later, is furs."

"There is no need to tell you in detail how and why I came here—unlike Caliban, I am not a native of the place. I hope you are not so deficient as to have failed to read 'Tempest.' I find quite an analogy to our present condition. Shakespeare is a great delight on wintry nights; he remains real, when most of my other slim stock of authors fades into air."

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO MRS MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR JACK'S MOTHER:
I don't think you quite realized how you hurt me in the last letter which you wrote me. Surely you must know that I am too devoted to your son to do anything in all the world to make his mother unhappy. I have been very ill and Jack has kept me from anything that would fret me, consequently I had never seen one of your letters or one of the letters by your friend, Miss Bradford, that he has received. Of course you know my mind was somewhat unsettled after the loss of interest me in any particular until interest me in any particular until they brought to me the darlingest baby boy I have ever seen. Oh I know if you could see him you would love him. You would not think for one moment I was foolish and besides, it always has seemed to me that taking a baby who other-wise might not have any joy or comfort or content in its life and giving it some of these is the greatest good anyone can do.

I am very sorry you have not been well and I hope you will understand after getting this letter of course I understand that to you that I have not been neglectful of you, but I have been so ill myself that everything which could possibly in any way disturb me, my mother and Jack have kept from me. We grow a little selfish over our own ill. do we not?

Now, my dear "Jack's mother," I am sending you today my check for the amount of money you said you needed. I cannot understand why Jack has not sent it to you before. I would hate to know for one moment you had a feeling that because Jack had married me he was neglectful of you I want you to feel you have not lost your son but you have gained a daughter.

I hope you will forgive me, however, if I say to you that probably one of the reasons of this misunderstanding between Jack and you is that he has resented the interference of Miss Bradford. I did not see her letters but from what Jack said about them I know he thought she had been "rather catty."

Surely you know your son well enough to realize that he always is exasperated when anyone "buts in" as he says into a family affair. Even I would not presume to advise him as to his conduct toward you

Miss Bradford is perhaps a dear and valued friend, but Jack probably told she was almost a stranger to him as she is an utter stranger to me.

Please do not misunderstand me, dear "Jack's mother," because I am only trying to unravel the tangle, one of the little tangles in that big tangle which we call life.

Most sincerely,
LESLIE PRESCOTT.

DEMPSEY ODDS ON BIG TILT DROP AS TIME DRAWS NEAR

Pittsburgh Defeats Reds In Battle For Second Place Drawing Close to Giants

As A Matter of Fact

BY HARRY BRADBURY
Sports Editor.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the record of Luis Angel Firpo, I am giving it, in as concise a manner as possible. Perhaps no one in the annals of sporting history has come so quick to the fore as this South American. From obscurity to the position he now holds is certainly most remarkable. He was absolutely unknown to sporting circles a couple of years ago. In this short space of time he is going to meet the undisputed champion of the pugilistic world. He is not quite 29 years of age, having been born in Buenos Aires, Oct. 29, 1895. He is of Spanish-Italian extraction. During his short career in the ring he has taken part in 26 fights, since 1921 and he has won 20 of these by straight knockouts. His only defeat came in 1917, when he was knocked out in the first round in an amateur bout by Angel Rodriguez.

After making a considerable reputation as a pugilist in Argentina, set out for the pugilistic paradise of America. He came to the United States early in 1922. His first match in the country was against Sailor Maxted, at Newark. He scored a knockout in the seventh round.

SHOWS WHAT A FIGHTER HE IS

His next fight was with Italian Jack Herman and Joe McCann before returning to his native land. His victory over Herman was scored in the sixth round and he duplicated this performance with McCann in the same number of rounds. Before the end of the year, he knocked out Jim Tracey in four rounds. This bout was held in Buenos Aires. He came back to this country after that, with

ON PAR WITH DEMPSEY IN THAT BOUT

It will be remembered that Dempsey had previously met Brennan, and that the fight lasted 12 rounds. Rather a strange coincidence that he should last the same number of rounds against the South American. But the battle scored a knockout in favor of Firpo. Brennan giving the champ the hardest battle he ever had, with the exception of Tommy

HIS CAREER AFTER THE BRENNAN BATTLE

Then came Firpo's bout with Jack McAuliffe 2nd at the Milk Fund show, held at the Yankee Stadium, on May 12 of this year. The big South American pounded the big fellow from Detroit to a pulp in three rounds. Shortly after this, and it was on his splendid record that he was matched against Jess Willard, with the understanding that the winner should be signed for a bout with the champion. But the South American is never satisfied. After the match with Willard had been arranged, he wanted to keep on fighting and he

TO SUM UP HOW THEY STAND

So far as accomplishing things in the squared circle, it should be a wise procedure to figure the men Dempsey has boxed that Firpo has met. Practically the best that Dempsey has met, with the exception of Gibbons, Firpo has boxed. So far as ability is concerned, both had the same advantage with Brennan, and both have licked Jess Willard. If these are facts—and they are ring history—why should Dempsey be a

Young Is Sure He Can Beat Monnette

Since fighting or boxing, or whatever comes within the law, is in the air, and hundreds of thousands of sport devotees are waiting for the outcome of the Dempsey-Firpo bout, Charley Maxwell has set the pace so far as Lima and her fight fans are concerned by arranging a boxing show, that is causing a great deal of enthusiasm. He has arranged what should be a very satisfactory show, which will be held at Murphy's ball grounds on Friday night. There is a whole bunch of Lima adherents who are pinning their faith in "Red" Young to beat Monnette, but can he?

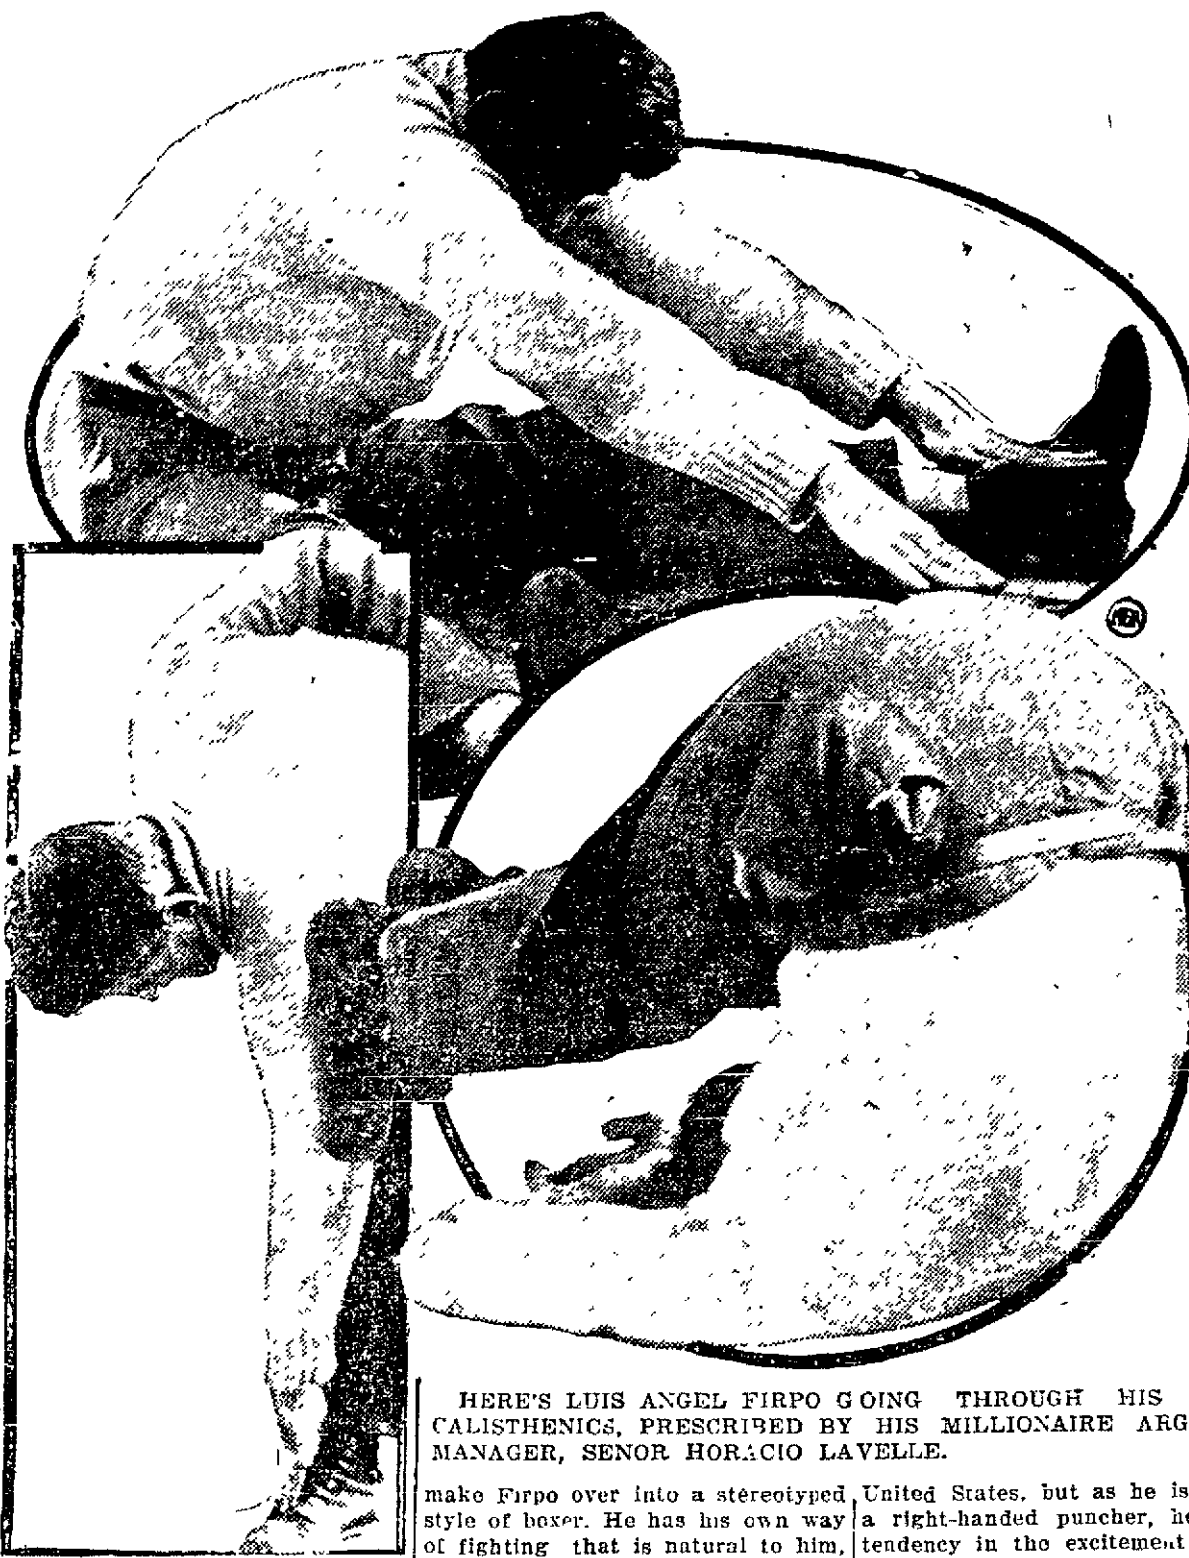

If one wishes to judge conservatively, this Monnette is a very tough customer. He comes to Lima confident that he can stop Young in a very few rounds, and there is a whole lot in being confident. There are many good judges of boxing that hold the same opinion of Monnette, and they are willing to wager their money to that effect.

All this talk is not bothering Young. He goes in just as confident as the Springfield boy, that he will put him away in quick order. Its just like the Dempsey-Firpo bout, no one can tell until it is over. This is Young's first battle as a middleweight and the result will be watched with a great deal of interest. Great things are expected from Lima's battler.

Another match that is causing a great deal of attention is that Young Baxter is going to find the going decidedly hard when he meets Eddie Grant. Grant has been winning from heavier boys lately. It is certain that he backs a hard wallop in either fist.

All things considered the show is sure to be an interesting one. To make things more lively, rounds of the Dempsey-Firpo fight will be read by rounds from the ringside.

FIRPO GOING THRU HIS DAILY CALISTHENICS

(BY BOB DORMAN)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — What effect will Firpo's action in surrounding himself with South American advisers have with Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight title?

Their company undoubtedly will have a good effect upon his morale. They are his own people, possessing the peculiarities of temperament that have marked Firpo's career in this country. By their understanding of these peculiarities, they will prevent the many petty annoyances he has been subject to from men of different birth.

As far as his physical training goes, Senor Horacio Lavelle, the millionaire sportsman who has come from South America to supervise Firpo's work, and whose coming has been the cause of much unfavorable criticism on the part of some folks in this country, does not intend to initiate any different method than the one employed here in the United States.

"Training of an athlete for a ring bout," he says, "is just the same in South America as it is in North America. We follow the same system, except that we lay, perhaps, a little more stress on calisthenics. The calisthenics are in addition to the regular routine of ring training, and are performed after the morning roadwork."

"I have always found calisthenics a great help in developing every muscle in the body, and tending to give suppleness and a 'looseness' to the joints."

"We are not going to try and

Locals Play Two Games Sunday

Double headers are getting popular at the Murphy's grounds. Manager Holloran announces that he has arranged with the Nebraska Indians to play two games Sunday. While it will be good news to devotees of the national pastime, it is necessary because earlier in the season there were a series of three games arranged with this famous team of Redskins. They came to Lima direct from Boston and the east where they have been playing for some time.

In the interim they have booked games with New Orleans and from there they go to Cuba for a long series. They are booked to play in Havana early in October.

It will be remembered that these Indians won the first game of this three game series 4-3, July 8 last. Since they were here, their entire lineup has been changed to all Indians. There were but seven before. They will most likely pitch their ace in one of the games Sunday.

This is Chief Westley, who has been giving a good account of himself. On the receiving end is Sandy Timmer, who was formerly a star on the Haskell Institute team as well as a football star on the Carlisle eleven. Buffalo, is another Red man of the team and said to be a great pitcher. He is a full blooded Indian, and will pitch one of the games Sunday.

HERE'S LUIS ANGEL FIRPO GOING THROUGH HIS DAILY CALISTHENICS, PRESCRIBED BY HIS MILLIONAIRE ARGENTINE MANAGER, SENOR HORACIO LAVELLE.

make Firpo over into a stereotyped style of boxer. He has his own way of fighting that is natural to him, and we believe that his best chance lies in the development of his natural ability.

"The two points we will emphasize in training for Dempsey are speed and the improvement of Firpo's left."

"Luis may look slow and awkward, but one in the ring with him will find he possesses a deceiving cat-like quickness. This we will develop still further."

"Firpo has learned much about using his left since coming to the United States, but as he is strictly a right-handed puncher, he has a tendency in the excitement of ring combat, to rely mainly on his more powerful right."

"This can be overcome with practice, and we intend that Firpo shall devote most of his training to the use of his left until its use becomes as natural as his right."

"We believe that this would be all that an American trainer could do for Firpo, and in the ease that he finds in being surrounded by those who speak his language and know his customs, we feel that his mental attitude will be much better."

Guess Who Will Win

Benny Leonard, champion lightweight of this day says, after looking both Dempsey and Firpo over, that Dempsey will win easily. Jack McAuliffe, undefeated lightweight champ, of thirty years ago, is positive Firpo will win. But don't take the opinion of either because as a rule a boxer is the poorest judge imaginable of another boxer. Use your own judgment, it's as good as their. Send in your guess to the Lima News.

Lou Cunningham of the Quilna theatre says he can lick either man for $350,000.

W. E. Clark manager of the Faurot says: Dempsey has been champ, about as long as the average, and its logical to believe Firpo will win.

Jim Jolley, of Jolley & Chenoweth: If Dempsey don't win in three or four rounds, Firpo's going to whip him.

Virgil Knisely, Blum's Dept. Store: Dempsey wins in 5 or 6 rounds.

Chas. Gordon, of Gordon's: Dempsey will beat him in 6 rounds.

Mr. Asher, Windsor's Jewelry Store: Firpo will be knocked out in less than 15 rounds.

R. S. Marshall, Marshall's Sporting Goods: The fight will go 15 rounds.

Bernie Halloran, manager Independent Base Ball club: Dempsey is just as strong, just as young, more experienced; is a clean liver, so he will win from the South American.

Charley Maxwell, referee and fight promoter: I look for an early victory. Dempsey will stop him in fourth or fifth round.

Central High Hard at Work For Game

Central High grid aspirants settled down to the hardest work of the season Tuesday evening in preparation for the first game with Van Buren, Saturday.

Heretofore practice has been of the limbering up sort but Coach Theibert gave his proteges something to think about Tuesday evening. With the game so near, no work must be spared in getting into the best possible condition.

The work yesterday was devoted mostly to tackling and blocking the dummy. Sixty ambitious warriors were on hand garnering the methods of doing it from Coach Theibert. Wednesday evening the first scrimmage will be held.

Coach Theibert believes that he will have a rather difficult job in picking a team to start the game Saturday. Many boys are out for each position and as most are evenly matched the Central mentor anticipates some hard thinking. It is probable that the nucleus of two complete teams will be used in the coming fray.

Reports broadcasted in the Central camp make it certain that Van Buren has a stiff bunch of football huskies. It is said that 10 regulars are back, enough to make any school's team a good one.

The upstate lads are firm in the conviction that they will defeat Central and have spared no training in getting themselves into the best condition.

The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at College field with Bob Young of Ohio Wesleyan refereeing and Waller in the umpire's capacity.

At the Training Camps of Dempsey and Firpo

NEW YORK — Betting odds on the Dempsey-Firpo bout have started to shorten. More Firpo money has begun to appear. For the first time since the match was made, money in any quantity appeared on the stock exchange. It was reported that $22,000 of Dempsey money was available to be laid against $10,000 of Firpo money. Late in the afternoon it was learned that $12,000 had been placed against $5,000, the shortest the odds had been on Firpo. On the exchange, it also was stated there was $3,000 sent by a syndicate of Argentines to be laid against $9,000, but at closing time it had not been covered. The best the Argentines could get was $7,500 and they would not take it.

Fried & Co., Wall Street brokers, announced the odds on Dempsey to win by a knockout were lengthening. The firm reported it had placed a number of wagers at 7 to 5 that Dempsey would win by a knockout. On Monday the betting on the same kind of a proposition was even money. The largest single bet on Dempsey to win by a knockout was $2,800 against $2,000. At the close of the day, Fried & Co. reported they had several thousand dollars ready remaining to be placed at 7 to 5 that Dempsey would knockout Firpo within the fifteen rounds. The betting lengthened from even money to 6 to 5, then 7 to 5.

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y. — Reaching the end of his real training for the defense of his heavyweight title against Luis Angel Firpo, in New York Friday night, Jack Dempsey looks to be in condition good enough to retain his title.

Experienced experts like Jack McAuliffe, the retired lightweight champion, might detect in Dempsey's looks and actions symptoms of unfavorable conditions, but to less skillful eyes the champion seems to be ready in every respect.

He does look slender in the hips and legs, but he has worked to develop maximum speed and his boxing is almost perfect. He still misses many of his punches, but he always does in his training and it is apparent that he misses many times because he is trying to spare his sparring partners. His wind is good. Some of the experts have detected a lack of the old Dempsey kick in his punching, but the champion said this morning that he did not let himself out once in his training.

"I have to do my fighting in the ring and there is no need to fight my sparring partners. It takes too much out of me," Dempsey said.

Others have wondered why Dempsey has devoted so much time to the development of speed when fast work will not be such a big factor against a slow moving awkward opponent, like Firpo. Dempsey intimated this morning that he plans to dazzle the big South American with a speedy attack and keep him going so fast that he will not be able to wind up and shoot over one of his right hand swings.

Dempsey, it has been noticed, here and at Great Falls, is open to left punches and many right handers but he does not show the same weakness when he is actually fighting. The champion is one of the few class leaders who does not care if he looks bad before a training camp crowd if he gets a good workout and achieves some particular plan that he might have in overcoming another weakness.

The champion seems to be absolutely without worry or concern. He is confident that he will succeed in retaining his title, but he is not underestimating the ability of his opponent and he insists that he is going to have a hard fight.

Dempsey said today that he still had a little cold and he was debating whether to take a chance on getting a haircut which he needs badly. He shaved this morning, but the razor will not touch his face again until after the fight. Dempsey always fights with a heavy beard.

(By JACK McAULIFFE)
(Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — There is no doubt about it—Dempsey is on his way.

Sporting writers might just as well get out the champion's obituaries, because next Friday night there is going to be a new heavyweight king.

The big boy down here looks good; he is awkward and not too fast, but from what I saw at Saratoga while watching Dempsey do his stuff, I should say the South American is a certain winner.

The sympathies of the American public must be with Dempsey. Na-

Cy Williams, of Philadelphia, slugger extraordinary, of the National League, hit two balls over the right field wall Tuesday.

For his thirty-sixth birthday, Williams was presented with a new suit of clothes by the team.

The circuit swipes not only aided his team to a 11-3 victory over Brooklyn but put him two ahead of the Bambino on the season.

It is not probable, however, that Ruth's record of 58 will be broken this season, by either of these hard hitters.

POLA USES INSTINCT

(By GERTRUDE GILLHAM)

HERE is a workaday portrait of Pola Negri, temperamental and sometimes temperamental, who has just completed her third American picture.

It is presented by Herbert Brenon of the Lasky forces, who directed her in "The Spanish Dancer," and who from two months of daily association on the set is enabled to draw an intimate characterization of the fiery star.

Before we unveil the sketch, let it be said of Brenon that he is admirably known among his associates as a "wild Irishman" for his frankness and aggressive qualities in speech and act.

"During the time we worked together," said Brenon, "I will not deny that there were periods when my patience was sorely tried. But it was not while Pola Negri was actually on the set.

"When I was asked to direct her in 'The Spanish Dancer' I began to gather every bit of information available about her. Some of it alarmed me, but when we came into daily contact it became obvious that she was a remarkable woman pretty generally misunderstood.

"Before she came to America she was told some very curious things about our customs. Those who did so were Americans, but gave her the worst possible advice. Like all sensitive people, Pola was nervous to the point of timidity when she arrived. In an effort to conceal this, she assumed a certain hauteur, alternating with periods of humility.

"I am convinced that this early manner was merely a pose, and that she persisted in playing a false role to the point where her own charming personality was given scarcely any opportunity to win friends.

"Pola is not easy to direct. No great artist is.

"She belongs to the type that allows situations to take complete control of the emotions. Riding on the crest of an emotional tide she is magnificent, and if the camera is started at the moment of her complete surrender to the tide she gives what no other screen actress has ever done before.

"Miss Negri is a hard worker, once she makes up her mind to begin. Whenever I suggested a piece of business to her, I could depend upon its being worked out and elaborated in thoroughly artistic fashion. She has a strong will, and when something strikes her as unnatural she will pause and say, 'But I do not feel that!'

"I quickly learned that she is at her best when she works in the full sway of emotions. Everything she does then seems instinctive. But if she begins to reason and plan her actions, her work is not so satisfying.

"On the sets I found her very patient unless she was asked to wait. That always annoys her. On the other hand, no work is too arduous, no study too trying, when she is working out details of a scene.

POLA NEGRI

"She usually stands with her hands over her eyes for a while. When ready she removes her hands and says, 'Now.' If the camera is started too soon she cries angrily, 'No, no, not yet.'

"I cannot say Pola Negri is the greatest artist I have ever known. She has unlimited genius, is the mistress of emotionalism, but she still has some things to learn. Her ability and boundless ambition, however, should carry her to the peak of her profession.

"She is a curious admixture of old world sophistication and of impulsiveness as candid as a child's. Watching scenes from the 'Spanish Dancer' in the projection room she at times applauded upon seeing herself on the screen. I did not take this as vanity, but an amazing ability of Negri the spectator to detach herself completely from Negri, the actress. She applauds others with the same quick appreciation when their work is good.

"Keenly critical of her own work.

conscious of her ideas, earnest, and, guided by sharp intuition and endowed with rare powers of perception and artistic grace, Pola Negri will eventually, I believe, stand as the supreme symbol of her art."

"Temptation" Is Story Of Unusual Interest

THRILLS galore were given to the photoplay patrons of the Lyric theatre, when "Temptation" was presented at that house for the first time Tuesday. Not only does the picture contain the hair-raising elements so pleasing to every moving picture fan, but also provides tear-compelling moments.

"Temptation" is the title given to a story which revolves about the adventures of Jack Baldwin and his luxury-loving wife. When the story opens the two are in moderate circumstances. A tremendous fortune suddenly comes to them, with the result the wife loses her head. Her husband vainly tries to stop the tide which he realizes must inevitably land them on the rocks.

Ultimately money and the things it will buy cause him to lose his head and it is then that his wife awakens to the knowledge of the unhappiness looming up ahead. Matters are complicated by a man who makes up a third corner of this triangle, and a widow who has fallen in love with the husband. The result is a series of complications, which go far toward making "Temptation" a story of unusual interest.

The cast of stars is headed by Bryant Washburn and Eva Novak, supported by such well known players as June Elvidge, Phillips Smalley and Vernon Steele.

TO HOLD FUNERAL
Funeral services for William Ralph Morris, 28, World War veteran, who died Tuesday at his home in American-tp, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the residence. Interment in Greenlawn cemetery, Elida.

GIRL VICTIM OF CYCLE ACCIDENT IS IDENTIFIED

DAYTON — The girl victim of a motorcycle accident near Piqua Sunday was today identified as being Ruth Cromer, of Hagerstown, Ind. Identification was made by Mrs. William Cohen of this city, who said the girl's mother's name is Mrs. Cora Stamm.

Police have been endeavoring to locate the girl's relatives because of criminal proceedings expected to follow. Lawrence Harris, 36, of Piqua, and Charles Hood, of Portsmouth are in custody and will, it is said, be charged with manslaughter.

PRIVATE SERVICES

Private funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. for Mildred Yette Rudy, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rudy, of 141 E. O'Connor-st., who died Tuesday at the home of her parents. Death was due to diphtheria. Rev. Franks, pastor of the Methodist church in West Minister officiated. Interment in Salem cemetery, east of West Minister.

SALVATION ARMY BAND APPEARS

The Salvation Army band of 14 pieces made its initial appearance Tuesday night when the Salvation Army marched to the Reescoe Home where services were conducted at the invitation of Rev. A. J. Welty. The band made an exceptionally good showing, the result of three months' practice under the directorship of Captain F. W. Wilkinson. At the services Captain Wilkinson gave a talk. The band will appear on all future meetings of the army.

BANK AWARDED JUDGMENT

Judgment in the sum of $447.09 was awarded the Lincoln National Bank, Ft. Wayne, in an action against Milo S. Daniels in common pleas court Wednesday.

WORK MAKES FOR WEALTH

Abundance and Not Scarcity is Big Factor

GOMPERS ON MACHINERY

Says Workers Should Not Oppose Labor-Saving Devices

(BY E. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — What makes work?

Work, brains, machinery, applied to the resources of the earth, the sea, the air.

Samuel Gompers, the veteran head of organized labor in America has just issued an appeal to workers not to fight the introduction of new labor-saving machinery or devices, but to welcome them and do everything possible to make them operate successfully.

We have made progress since the silk workers of Lyons beat and almost killed Jacquard for having invented machinery which made it possible to increase output very greatly. Today a statute in his honor graces the city of Lyons. And Lyons has, of course, more silk workers than in the days when the work was done by hand.

Yet Mr. Gompers would not have issued his appeal had he not known that there was need for it even in these supposedly enlightened days. There are still many, many workers who do not understand that any device calculated to cheapen production makes for the well-being of workers interested.

It is still true that far too many workers have not yet grasped the elementary fact that it is abundance and not scarcity that makes for greater wealth and more comforts for all.

The bricklayer who lays fewer bricks than he could comfortably lay, imagines that he is thereby helping to provide work for a larger number of his fellow-tradesmen. He reasons that if he were to lay one thousand bricks a day, the laying of these one thousand bricks would furnish only one day's work, but if he lays only five hundred a day, then two days' work is provided.

But what Mr. Gompers and other intelligent labor leaders, as well as all the rest of us, have to try to bring home to the minds of every workman in the land is that it is in the interest of the bricklayers themselves that they do a full day's work and not "go slow," thus bringing down the cost of brick building. Every worker needs to have it clearly explained to him that, the cheaper it becomes to construct brick buildings, the greater will become the demand for brick buildings and the greater will become the demand for bricklayers, and that this increased demand for bricklayers will tend to send up bricklayers' wages.

Workers, unfortunately, are not, however, the only ones who have not yet learned the basic lesson that restricted output and artificially high costs are bad for everybody.

W. R. Bassett, prominent industrial engineer, writes me that American workmen could have $10,000 incomes if all employers would install the best, the most efficient management methods. That is, workers, he claims, could be paid wages which would give them the purchasing power enjoyed by those who have $10,000 incomes under present conditions.

This may strike you and me as an overstatement, as an unjustified assertion. But that there is much foundation for what he says cannot be disputed.

Suppose every factory, every railroad, every mine, every utility corporation, every department store, every mill, every educational institution, every federal and state and municipal administration, every ship yard, every chemical works, every oil property and refinery, every farm, were run with the highest possible degree of scientific efficiency — with, for example, as great efficiency as Ford runs his plants — imagine, if you can, how the cost of living could be lowered, how production could be increased, how taxes could be cut, how much more of the necessities and the comforts and the luxuries of life would be within reach of all of us?

There are employers, there are producers, just as unenlightened and inefficient as the workers who object to the introduction of labor-saving machinery. They adhere to antiquated methods and charge unreasonably high prices, just as some bricklayers and other artisans are accused of doing less than they are perfectly capable of doing. The net result in both cases is to keep down the supply of the good things of life for all of us.

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)

Price changes were mixed at the opening of today's stock market. U. S. Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker, the usual leaders, all opened fractionally lower but the main trend nevertheless appeared to be upward. Davison Chemical advanced 2 points. Most of the oils were higher, Houston rising a point.

The market continued somewhat spotty in the early dealings. Good buying was noted in some of the sugar, textile and copper shares while the tobacco was heavy. International Agricultural preferred dropped 2 points and Famous Players and Maxwell A., one each. Harman Corporation advanced 2 points. Cuba Cane Sugar preferred 1-2 and Punta Alegre 1. Foreign exchanges opened irregular, German marks dropped to less than one cent a million, a new low record for the year.

A considerably short selling and profit-taking came into the market during the morning after an early period of hesitation and the general list lost ground. Resistance was offered, however, in a number of quarters, particularly by shares in the sugar, merchandising and low priced rail groups, several of which maintained their gains of a point or so. Heaviness was most marked in the oils, equipments, motors and a few specialties, such as American Can, Dupont and Foundation Company which sold one to two points below yesterday's final figures. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Increased activity in today's stock market was attended by sagging prices, many stocks yielding one to three points. Efforts to extend yesterday's rise at the outset under the leadership of the sugar group was soon abandoned when large selling orders appeared for accounts. Sales approximated 800, shares.

The closing was weak.

Story by Hal Cochran Drawings by Lee Wright

"Now you must walk back to shore again," said the little water girl. "You can only stay in this Nugget Pool long enough to get clean." So Jack turned around and waded out of the water. As soon as he reached the shore the Lady of the Lake clapped her hands and some nymphs appeared.

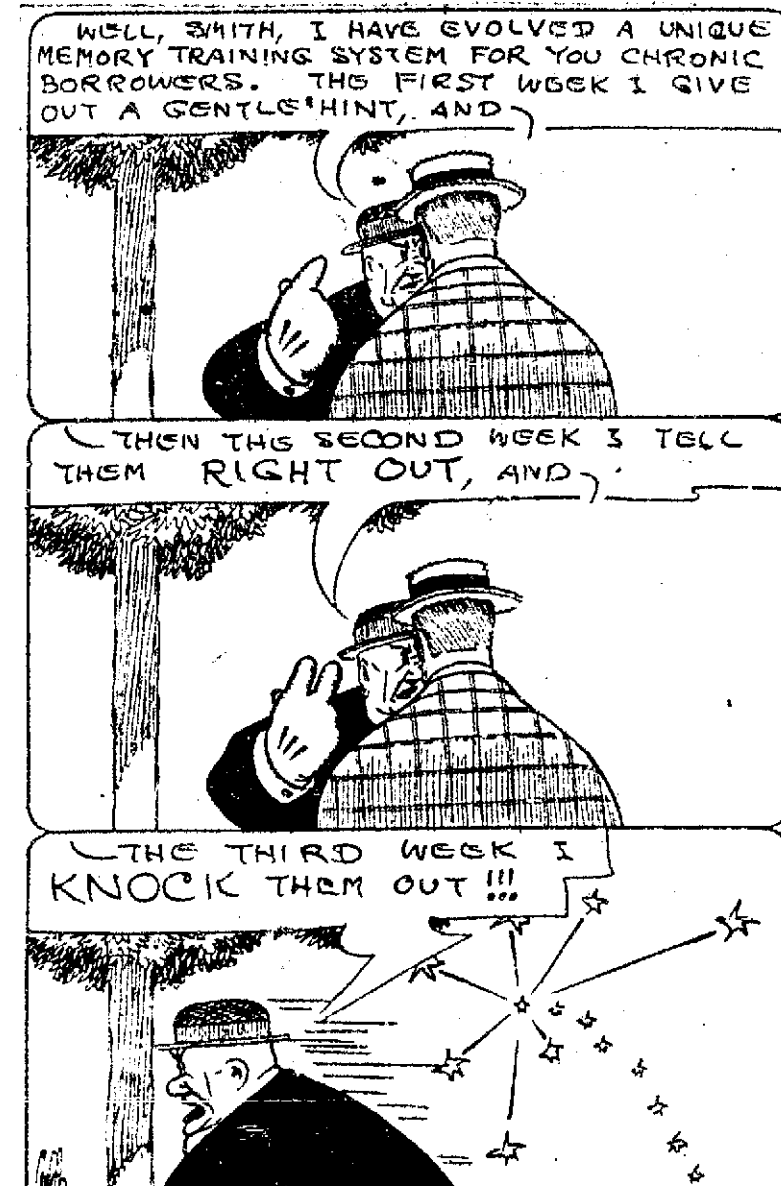

"Sit down on that rock!" shouted the water girl, and Jack did as he was told. Then the little nymphs started fanning him with huge leaves. In a few moments Jack felt of his clothing and discovered they were all dry. Then the water girl and nymphs suddenly disappeared.

Jack was alone with Phil. He was wondering what he should do next when Mother Earth appeared. "Now that you are spick and span," said she, "I will let you visit Silver Cavern." So she led the way to another spring which seemed to be covered with bars of bright silver. (Continued)

By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

PERHAPS:

Can a dentist better with my glasses?
Oh, yes, much better.
Well, maybe you will be able to see things my way now.
Dr. Shelby Mammaugh, W. Market-st., was commenting on the democratic spirit of the United States recently and related an experience an English friend had told him. It seems a young clerk in an office in England volunteered the information that it looks like we are going to have rain.
"We," snarled the employer, "since when have you been a member of this firm?"
Thomas Shultz, N. Jefferson-st., tells of an incident related to him the other day. It concerns a prisoner at a certain state prison. He had been convicted of blue sky operations.
"I understand," said the warden one day, "that you were able to make gushers out of dry holes in the oil section in your province."

"Yes," answered the prisoner. "I was quite optimistic."
"Well, the governor wants a report on this prison and you are the man I've been looking for to write it."

10,000 DELEGATES AT DENTAL CONVENTION

CLEVELAND — Fifteen sectional meetings occupied the attention of the 10,000 delegates to the sixty-fifth annual convention of the American Dental Association today. No general session was on the program until tonight when United States Senators Royal S. Copeland of New York and Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota were scheduled for addresses.
Addressing the convention last night, Dr. William J. Gies of New York, urged that dentistry be put on an equality with other health services and that universities invite dentists for the specific endowment of dental education. The steady growth and "precocious" development of dentistry in the recent past, Dr. Gies said, is one indication that the profession has the vitality to grow and attain full equality with other health services.

TRUSTEE APPOINTED
COLUMBUS — Dr. J. L. Johnson, Columbus, appointed trustee of Wilberforce University by Governor Donahy. He succeeds Bert J. Gayder, Steubenville. Dr. Johnson formerly was U. S. Minister to Liberia.

SUIT FILED
CINCINNATI — Suit filed against Lincoln Housing Association by Attorney General Crabbe thru local counsel, asking appointment of receiver for the company on ground that it is operating under state building and loan association laws, but is not real building association.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Much Interest Being Shown in the Large Number of Women Safely Carried Through the Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Following Letters Are Impressive

Owing to modern methods of living, few women approach this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying and often painful symptoms. These dreadful hot flashes, nervousness, headaches, melancholia and irritability are only a few of the symptoms incident to this trying period of a woman's life, and the following letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to overcome these abnormal conditions.

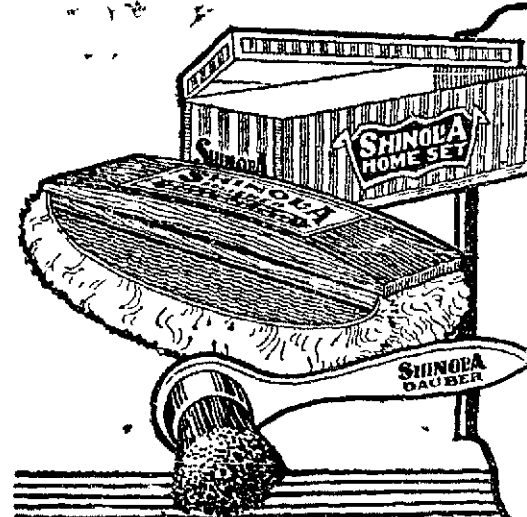

"Fisherville, Ky.—'For several months I was under the doctor's care as he said my nervousness, chills, hot flashes and weakness was caused by the Change of Life, but I did not seem to get any better. I was not able to work and spent most of my time in bed. A friend called to see me and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I cannot tell you how much good the medicine did me, as I had such a hard time before taking it. I can only advise every woman passing through the Change of Life to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it did so much for me.'—Mrs. EDWARD B. NEAL, Star Route, Fisherville, Ky."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Affments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

A Michigan Woman Helped
Ionia, Michigan.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had been under the doctor's care without any relief. A friend in Lansing, Mich., asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel fifty per cent better already. If any one in this condition doubts the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them I will gladly answer their letters."—Mrs. MAY W. HAHN, 537 N. Jefferson Street, Ionia, Mich.

A New York Woman Helped
Syracuse, N. Y.—"I was used up with nervousness, weakness and hot flashes so I could hardly keep around, and could not get out much on account of those awful prickly feelings. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helping another woman with symptoms like mine. My husband got some for me, and after taking it a few months I can get around and even do my housework, washing and ironing included, and my friends can see what a change it has made in me."—Mrs. SIDNEY HUMPHREY, 826½ Burnet Avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

Advice For Mothers

Read What This Mother Says
Cincinnati, Ohio — "Always during expectancy my back would be so stiff that I could scarcely move without help. I tried various medicines, but not until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did I get relief. I consider 'Favorite Prescription' a perfect tonic for the expectant mother, for it not only strengthened me and relieved me of all pain and lameness but I had comparatively no suffering, and my labors were hardy and strong—absolutely perfect—mentally and physically, which I considered due to the fact that the 'Favorite Prescription' which I took as a tonic, contained no harmful ingredients." Your health is your most valuable asset. So, why not get this Prescription today from your druggist, or write Dr. Pierce, President of the Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y. for free medical advice, or send for a trial pkg. of tablets—adr.

Little Chats about the Drug Business

No. 44 of a Series

NO. 45 NEXT WEDNESDAY

Poison!!

When you see that word on a label you very naturally "look out for yourself."

There are also many medicines on which such labelling is not required yet which are none the less poisonous in the sense that constant drugging is always poisonous to the human system.

The medicine habit is often dangerous and frequently useless. No medicine should be used except under the direction of your doctor.

And when you get a prescription see that it is accurately filled with drugs of exact standards of strength and purity.

Having it filled here makes you safe on that score.
